Eliot Wadsworth, Expresses Belief That Federal Income Tax Exercises Power of Inquisition Into Private Affairs of Citizens

BOSTON, Oct. 23.—Expressing the belief that the federal income tax exercises a power of inquisition into the private affairs of citizens, Eliot Wadsworth, assistant secretary of the treasury, in an address prepared for delivery before the annual meeting of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts today, said "in due course, as the nation's expenses are reduced and the war debt liquidated, it should be possible to obtain sufficient revenue by other forms of taxation."

"I wonder if we understand the true meaning of the power of this bureau which centers in Washington—how much the individual citizen yields in personal freedom to such a power, and how far the strong hand of government has forced itself into our personal affairs," he asked.

BANKERS ARE QUESTIONED IN "SLUSH FUND" INVESTIGATION

Geo. W. Simmons, Bank Official, Subpoenaed for Questioning With Reference to Letters He Wrote Urging Contributions to "Kill Off" La Follette Movement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Pushing its inquiry into charges of Senator Robert M. La Follette that a huge "slush" fund is being raised to swing doubtful states to the republican ticket on Nov. 4, the senate campaign fund investigating committee turned today to the examination of bankers and others from New York city.

George W. Simmons, vice president of the Mechanics and Metals National bank, was under subpoena for questioning with particular reference to letters he wrote to other bankers urging campaign contributions for the conduct of a fight in western states to "kill off" the La Follette movement. HOURS FOR VOTING ON STATE ELECTION DAY

On Tuesday, Nov. 4, state election day, the polls in Lowell will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning for 12 full hours. Announcement to this effect was made yesterday by the municipal elections board which had previously decided to keep the polls open only for the minimum time prescribed by law. Too great a congestion in the busy hours, because of the wide interest and extra large registration this year, seemed possible and the board, on second thought decided, to lengthen the polling hours. Rep. Henry Achen, Jr., cited to the board the two reasons above given and the special meeting was called at his suggestion.

ATTEMPT TO CRACK SAFE

Burglars Made Unsuccessful Attempt to Rob Safe of Jamaica Bank

Break Discovered by Cashier—Blood Found on Bank Floor and the Sidewalk

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Oct. 23.—Burglars entered the Jamaica Savings bank at Jamaica before daylight this morning and made an unsuccessful attempt to break open the safe. They broke through the steel wire door into the cashier's room and scattered papers about but found nothing of value to them. On leaving the building they piled open the front door with an iron bar.

John S. Robinson, cashier, who lives next door to the bank, lighted a lamp at 3 o'clock, and it is thought they may have frightened the burglars away. The break was discovered when Mr. Robinson went to the bank this morning. Blood was found on the bank floor and the sidewalk.

Sheriff Frank L. Wellman and State Attorney Arthur V. Piper of this place are making an investigation. The break is believed to be the work of amateurs. Photographs of fingerprints are being made by an expert, James Muzzy of Jamaica is president of the institution.

Deceased was formerly a typewriter expert in Lowell, but went to Florida a few years ago. Apparently he was not well known there, as identification of his body was made possible only through a fishing license found in a pocket of his clothing.

COOLIDGE URGES PRESERVATION OF INITIATIVE AND ENTERPRISE

Tells Committee of New York Business Men's Republican Association It "Is the Primary Thing Which We Have to Do in This Country"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Preservation of initiative and enterprise "is the primary thing which we have to do in our country," President Coolidge today told the executive committee of the New York Business Men's Republican Association, who called at the White House.

Freedom of initiative and enterprise carries with it, the president said, an obligation upon every business establishment "to give service" as well as goods to consumers.

Declaring the economic system of the government "fundamentally sound," the president criticized those who emphasize "out of all due proportion" its abuses. Correction of these abuses, he held, lies in the hands of those administering commerce and industry, and only they, he added, can prevent the necessity of government intervention.

"Already they have made great advances in this direction," he continued. "Their sense of responsibility has made steady growth during the last two score of years. We no longer hear the expression of indifferent attitude."

$50,000 LOSS IN FALL RIVER FIRE

Three Firemen Overcome While Fighting Flames in Plant of Rubber Company

Collapsed in Store and Were Pulled to Safety by Officer Arthur E. Cole

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 23.—Three firemen were overcome and damaged to the extent of $50,000 or more was caused by a threatening fire which broke out today in the basement of the Fall River Rubber company, situated in the Bennett building at North Main and Bank streets. The Alaska Fur company and the rubber store were the heaviest sufferers, the former from smoke and water and the latter from water and fire. John Moran, pumper three, Thomas O'Brien and James Carroll of hose two, were the firemen overcome. They were pulled from the store by Officer Arthur E. Cole following their collapse when overcome by the smoke of burning celluloid goods. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Many of the most interesting gowns are slashed at one side to reveal a petticoat or insert of gorgeous material.

A double-headed hatpin with one black pearl and one white one is very smart stuck through the front of a white felt hat.

VOTE ON LIQUOR ISSUE

Sixth Referendum on Question Within Past 30 Years in Province of Ontario

TORONTO, Oct. 23.—Voters of the province of Ontario today are balloting in the sixth referendum on the liquor question to be held within the past 30 years. The issue in today's voting is whether the sale of intoxicants under provincial government control shall be established or whether the Ontario temperance act, passed in 1916, shall remain in effect.

Registration figures indicated that the poll would be one of the heaviest in the history of the province.

The question of the return of the saloon is not involved in today's voting. Two questions only are asked on the ballot. The first is: "Are you in favor of the continuance of the Ontario temperance act?" The second is: "Are you in favor of the sale of beverages of beer and spirituous liquor in sealed packages and under government control?"

The present law was enacted in 1916 as a war measure and was confirmed when the "drys" were victorious in a plebiscite in 1919. Two years later an amendment was adopted, making it illegal to import liquor from wet provinces and states.

Today's voting is being watched with interest throughout Canada. It is generally believed that if the temperance act is repealed, prohibition will go into the discard in this dominion. If the "drys" win, however, it is expected that they will carry their fight for similar temperance acts in other provinces where they have lost ground, such as British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and even perhaps undertake to extend their triumph into Quebec.

The prince's principal travelling companion was his aide, Capt. LaSalle, who, in reply to a query as to the health of the prince following a slight indisposition in Montreal, said: "He is feeling perfectly fit again."

The royal party came down from the north on the Boston-bound train due at Lowell at 10.02 o'clock and occupied the special Pullman car, Pullman, Oddly enough, Balmoral Spa at Shawshoan was the first stop on the 25-mile motor trip from Lowell to Hamilton.

Police Arrangements
Long before train time the crowd began to gather and it required the continuous efforts of a large squad of police to keep clear an area around the waiting automobiles. Deputy Police Superintendent Hugh Downey was in charge of police arrangements, assisted by Traffic Sergeant Edward Connors and the entire traffic squad. A special motorcycle detail of Officers Kivian, Hunter and Judge formed an escort and led the party out of the city by way of Middlesex, Central, Church and Dover streets. Boston & Maine railroad police on duty were Sergt. Howard Simmons and Officer Thomas Graves. While on the train the prince had a special guard of four Canadian National railroad police, wearing navy uniforms similar to those of the Royal Northwest Mounted.

As the prince stepped down the car steps, he waved his hand in acknowledgment of the cheers which greeted him and smiled broadly as he greeted his hosts. He wore a blue and gray checked overcoat of light weight, brown suit and black derby hat. The trip to the motor cars took only a moment or two and three minutes later he was on his way out of the city. His car had some difficulty in getting through traffic at the corner of Thorndike street, but there was no hold-up.

Mr. Bayard Tuckerman told the writer he did not expect the prince would extend his visit in Hamilton beyond a late hour tonight, or at the latest, early tomorrow morning, for he Continued on Page 3

TO SPEND DAY AT HAMILTON

Crowd at Depot Gets Fleet-ing Glimpse of Royal Visitor This Forenoon

To Be House Guest at Savin Hill Farms of the Bayard Tuckermans

Is in Good Health Again After Slight Indisposition in Montreal

It has been said that recent pictures of the Prince of Wales give him the appearance of age beyond his actual years, but it was a boyish appearing youth who stepped from a Canadian-Pacific train at Lowell this forenoon and smiled a greeting to upwards of five thousand men and women who had waited for more than half an hour for his arrival en route from Montreal to Hamilton, Mass., where for today the royal visitor is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Tuckerman at Savin Hill Farms.

Alighting from his special car a few minutes after 10 o'clock the prince and his traveling party were welcomed by Mr. Tuckerman and a few friends, walked rapidly to waiting motor cars on the opposite side of the station, stopped momentarily while a battery of cameramen trained their lenses upon him, smiled a little as the crowd cheered, raised his derby hat and disappeared from view in the Tuckerman Lincoln brougham, which at once got under way for Hamilton.

The prince was met at the Lowell depot by Mr. Bayard Tuckerman, his host; Mr. James W. Appleton, master of bounds at Myopia; Mr. Charles S. Bird, Jr., of Hamilton; Mr. Dudley P. Rogers of Hamilton, and Mr. Edward F. Gray, British consul-general at Boston.

The prince's principal travelling companion was his aide, Capt. LaSalle, who, in reply to a query as to the health of the prince following a slight indisposition in Montreal, said: "He is feeling perfectly fit again."

GULBRANSEN Demonstration

Try Gulbransen pedalling. Sooner than a baby pushing down the pedals gave the idea for the Gulbransen Trade mark.

Four Gulbransen Instruction rolls furnished with every Gulbransen. These are exclusive with Gulbransen—highly interesting and simple to master. They teach, in a few evenings' time, the basis of correct playing.

Nationally Advertised. The Gulbransen is regularly advertised in The Saturday Evening Post, The American Magazine and The Literary Digest—an additional guarantee of its high standing in the commercial world.

We advertise the four models of the Gulbransen at the four nationally established cash prices. The Community model is $200. The Suburban model is $250. The Country Set is $300. The White House model is $500. Cash terms may be arranged, interest being charged on deferred payments. Naturally the more expensive models are better. But the most interesting model made, the Community at $200, is a splendidly built, dependable instrument that we are proud to put in any home.

If you want a good dependable instrument that you can play easily by a reputable manufacturer, and will give you the most pleasure in use, let us show you the GULBRANSEN.

Compare before you decide.

WE HAVE a surprise for you. We have an instrument played by music roll, and pedals, on which you can register your personal touch on the keys, just as you would in hand-playing. We have an instrument on which you can accent the melody and subdue the accompaniment.

Or you can use any ordinary song roll and play the accompaniment only, without playing the melody notes at all! You can play any regular player roll in seven different keys! The instrument that will do these things is the Gulbransen Registering Piano, of which we are making a special demonstration this week.

Come in—we want to show you this latest achievement in the music world—the famous Gulbransen about which you have read in the Saturday Evening Post, The Literary Digest and the American Magazine. Don't hesitate—come in today!

This new features the "Easy to Play" Gulbransen Registering Piano because we know our Gulbransen customers are the most satisfied customers we have.

Not only is the Gulbransen mechanically satisfactory, but it's also a musical achievement and inspiration.

When you become a Gulbransen owner we will assist you in every way to get the fullest possibilities out of your Gulbransen.

Make use of our tuning and service departments.

Remember that your present piano, if you have one, ought to be tuned at least twice a year.

First Payment on your GULBRANSEN

The Melody Indicator is a patented and exclusive Gulbransen feature.

It shows at a glance whether notes are in bass or treble, so you will know where to accent them.

Play any roll. Even the finest electric reproducing player rolls may be played on your Gulbransen.

You are not restricted in your choice of rolls.

Singers, note this. In playing song rolls you can play any ordinary song roll as an accompaniment—eliminating the melody entirely. This is possible only on the Gulbransen Registering Piano.

The facade is made of brick or stone, with large windows and a decorative cornice. A sign above the entrance reads "CITY INSTITUTION FOR SAVINGS" and the year "1837" is visible on the corner. A flag flies from a tall pole in front of the building. Several people are visible walking on the sidewalk in front of the entrance.

TABLETS

Made With Essential Oils

FOR

Politicians, Auctioneers,
Clergymen, Lecturers,
Singers

Anyone who speaks or sings in public whose voice is apt to grow husky or weak from the strain, will find that one Oxidaze tablet slowly dissolved in the mouth before speaking or singing, will make a world of difference. The voice stays strong and clear and natural even during an unusual strain. Thousands of people have testified to the remarkable value of these pure essential oil tablets, which bring such quick relief in cases of hoarseness, loss of voice, soreness, or "choking" in the throat, bronchitis, bronchial irritation, bronchial asthma, coughs, colds, and as a preventive against grippe, influenza and pneumonia.

One small inexpensive package of "Oxidaze" tablets will quickly prove the value of pure essential oil in cases of this kind; if they are always kept in the house for use in case of an emergency, they may save you many days of serious illness or discomfort. Any good druggist, including Green's Drug Store and Figgitt's, can supply you.—Adv.

NEW CURTAIN FOR KEITH'S THEATRE

A new silk curtain, designed to lend itself admirably to lighting effects, will be installed at the Lowell B. F. Keith theatre within the next few days and is expected to add greatly to the general appearance of the house. Also it will do away with the setting of side and upper boxes as it will operate on tracks and its opening will give the necessary stage area for the presentation of various acts. The curtain recently has been tried out with success at Keith houses in Cleveland and Ottawa.

BETTER PIE CRUST
The soaked undercrust, which spoils so many pies, can be avoided if you rest the pie in on a shallow dish until the pie is cool instead of setting it directly on the table.

MOM'N POP

KOUSSEVITZKY IS BORN ORCHESTRA LEADER

Serge Koussevitzky seems born to lead an orchestra as Pavlovsk said the Boston Post the morning after the new Russian leader had led the Boston Symphony orchestra through its first concert under his direction over a week ago.

"To a rare degree," said the Post, "is he the divine interpreter sending to the content of the score before him, and as unmistakably can he transmit to his orchestra all that he discerns and feels. Thus may prove that his interpretations are not infallible. But under no circumstances could he be inartistic."

"Call Mr. Koussevitzky, if you will, a 'prima donna conductor.' No doubt some will be minded so to class him. Yet it is possible to feel that the term fits him not at all. Not for the great glory of Mr. Koussevitzky does the Russian conduct, but for the greater glory of the composer."

Koussevitzky and his Boston Symphony orchestra of 105 musicians will come to the Memorial Auditorium Sunday afternoon, Nov. 2. Tickets will go on sale at Steinert's Saturday. Mail orders now. Lowell will be the first outside of Boston to greet the new conductor.

THE RETIREMENT BUREAU

Working of Teachers' Retirement Bureau Explained at Normal School.

Clayton L. Lent, secretary of the Teachers' Retirement bureau, was the speaker before the student body of the Lowell State Normal school yesterday afternoon. Mr. Lent gave a thorough and enlightening talk on the functions of the Retirement bureau, stating that it was founded on a firm financial basis for the purpose of remedying conditions in the state. Although not possessing the best system in the country, Massachusetts is accredited with being the first state to establish a retirement bureau.

"Before the organization of this bureau," said the speaker, "teachers taught until they were 70 years of age, and some even taught until they were 80 years old. This bureau, which makes it compulsory for a teacher to retire at the age of 70, gives the teacher a feeling of security. School work after all is not so bad and you may wish to teach until the age when compulsory retirement is required. You will then receive your pension, a fund and a pension, which will be of great benefit to you. If, however, you retire before the compulsory period, you will be refunded all the money you paid into the bureau, together with the interest due, a neat sum which will be of profit to you.

"There was a time when teachers were not obliged to belong to this bureau. Prior to July 1, 1914, membership in the bureau was optional. After that date it was not compulsory. This bureau is merely a compulsory banking firm, in other words, which pays an interest of 4 1/2 per cent. The assessments are not less than 3 per cent and not more than 7 per cent of the yearly salary. The average assessment is 5 per cent. The minimum total investment per year is $35 and the maximum, $100. These payments are made monthly and are deducted from the teachers' salary by the board. The average number of annual assessments is 22 at $100 each which with interest at 4 1/2 per cent will give $143.33. The maximum amount which can be used to purchase an annuity or pension. The interest accumulation is valuable." In illustrating this point, Mr. Lent gave several examples using various salary bases.

"Thirty-eight and one-half years is the average service of the teacher in Massachusetts. If the teacher should die before retiring age, all money with interest is refunded to her estate. The allowance to teachers, however, is in two parts: First, the annuity purchased by the teacher, and second, the pension which is paid by the state.

The annuity is divided into two sections: Option A, the largest life income ends with the death of the person; Option B, which provides a small annuity rate, and a balance at the death of the person, said allowance being payable to the estate. What is left of Option A on the death of a person does not go to the estate. It remains in the fund and helps pay the annuity to the other members. The system furnishes a fixed guaranteed income. Teachers retiring after 15 years of service receive a pension from the state equal to the 30-year annuity which amount is based on the salary received prior to retirement.

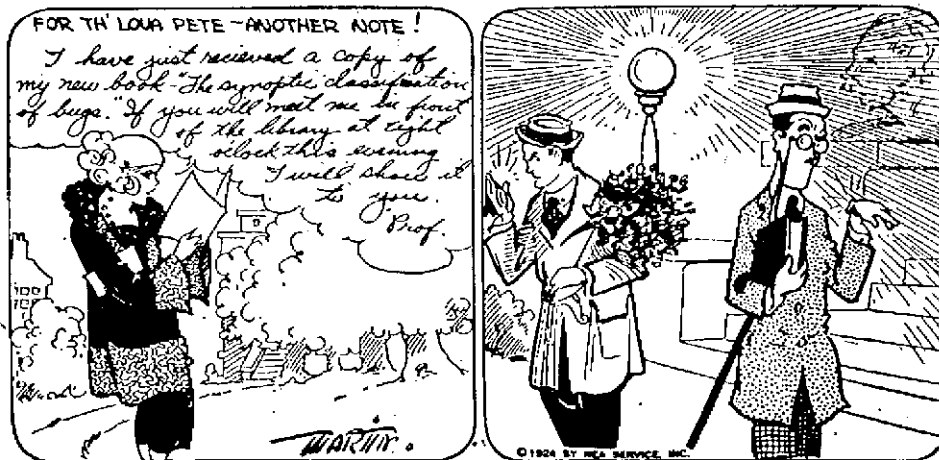

"Permanently disabled teachers receive a pension slightly larger than the amount purchased by the annuity."

At the conclusion of his talk Mr. Lent answered questions and explained various problems which were of interest to the pupils, the six-year service term being explained at length as to amount, interest and withdrawal sum. The interest for six years, however, would amount to very little compared with a longer period of service.

SUPPER AND SOCIAL IN CHURCH VESTRY

A successful supper and social was conducted by members of the Worthen Street Baptist church in the church vestry last evening. Supper was served at 6:30 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. John Sutherland, who was assisted by Mrs. George Patten, Mrs. Leslie Pratt, Mrs. Raymond Bellanger, and Miss May Atterton. Miss Belle Sutherland and Miss Blanche Wright had

A social hour followed the supper and at 8 o'clock a pleasing entertainment was given by James E. Donnelly.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally, I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 1341 Marcellus Avenue, Mansquan, N. J. I will cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture, and the worry and danger of an operation.—Adv.

DENY BOSTON POST HAS WON $1000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—In a statement yesterday the Democratic National committee took up once more the Boston police strike. It declared "The Boston Post" had not earned the $1000 reward offered by Chairman Shaver to anybody who would produce evidence of material error in what he said of President Coolidge's part in that affair, at which time he was governor. It also called on "The Post" to join in a request for a statement of the facts from President Coolidge.

The Democratic committee and Colonel Stephen Bonal charged in effect that as governor of Massachusetts at the time of the police strike Mr. Coolidge "assumed control of the situation" four days after the crisis had passed and took no part in the real suppression of rioting. In refuting this "The Post" quoted Governor Coolidge as saying:

"When the mayor and police commissioner met in my office Tuesday afternoon I told the mayor that he was authorized under the law to call out the militia within the limits of the city and that I stood ready to call out other units of the state guard on his request."

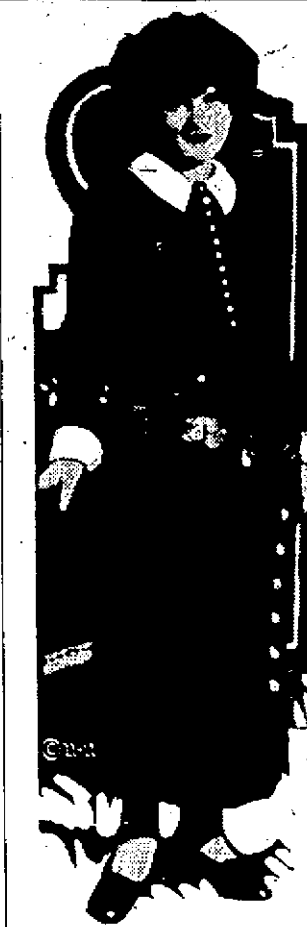

The committee statement said: "Governor Coolidge never made any such statement. As evidence of that fact we cite the following assertion of Mayor Peters himself:

"You, (The Boston Post) assert not only facts which are untrue, but you assume an ignorance of the law of which, I trust, the governor is incapable. At the time of the conference the conditions did not give me the authority to call out the militia and no governor with a knowledge of the law could possibly have called upon me to do so."

ROWDIES BREAK UP MEETINGS

London Papers Deplore Tendency Toward Rowdiness in Election Campaign

Conservative and Liberal Meetings Broken Up—Labor Party Blamed

LONDON, Oct. 23. (By the Associated Press.)—The tendency toward rowdiness in the present election campaign, with the consequent breaking up of conservative and liberal meetings, is deplored by the London newspapers, which today call upon the leaders of the labor party to use their influence to stop it.

Labor headquarters, however, disavows responsibility and the agent of the party at Greenwich, which has been one of the centers of disturbances, has issued an appeal for the party followers to act in a spontaneous manner and give their adversaries a fair hearing.

The charge is made in some quarters that the disturbances are due to gangs of paid hoodlums, often youths not possessing the franchise, but the instigators are unknown.

Great Britain has a law defining freedom of speech and public meeting, but it seems unpopular and speakers who have invoked it in the past have found that it only served to embitter the situation. The chairman of a conservative meeting at Lambeth last night, however, read the law, with a pausing effect on the audience.

The rowdiness is in nowise universal.

13 HOURS WORK FOR COL. ROOSEVELT TODAY

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Theodore Roosevelt, republican nominee for governor, set out today to put in about thirteen hours of work, though he retired late last night after making two speeches in the evening, preceded by eleven during the earlier part of the day.

Replying to Governor Smith's explanation that a stenographer's error had made the democratic department consolidation bill as providing for the abolition of the board of regents and the appointment of the commissioner of education by the governor, Colonel Roosevelt asserted that the measure was twice amended after its introduction without this defect being removed. He reiterated his statement that the proposal was designed solely to "build up the Tammany machine at the expense of the schools."

FOR THE BENEFIT OF NEEDY CHILDREN

Tomorrow evening at the Girls' City club a dance and entertainment will be held by the Children's Aid society, the proceeds of which will be donated to the fund to clothe needy children during the coming winter. The efforts of this organization in behalf of the poor children of the city have provided many with proper clothing during the colder months of the year, and it is hoped that tomorrow evening's affair will prove most successful. In addition to the program three master prizes will be awarded the holders of lucky tickets. Mrs. John de la Parra, president of the society, is in charge of the affair and is assisted by an able committee.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION SCHOOL.

The 1924 term of the School of Religious Education opened at the Y. M. C. A. last night with an enrollment of 131 students. Twenty-two churches and every Protestant denomination in Lowell is represented in the school and three professors have been obtained from Boston university to handle the classes. There were a large number of prospective students at last night's meeting and efforts will be made to enroll them during the week.

Country Too Large to Be Standardized in Washington

The bureau of internal revenue, a record of income and financial status of every citizen, rich and poor alike. The mere fact that such information is in the files places the federal government in a position of trust which involves unusual possibilities for good or harm. It is not difficult to understand its cash value to an unscrupulous competitor or an enemy. Already there is agitation that this information shall be made public, although when it was obtained there was a general understanding that it would be confidential.

"There are many suggestions now being actively advanced for placing further authority in the hands of the federal government, all involving additional expense, some a federal subsidy. It is my sincere belief that we are moving too fast. This country is too large to be standardized from Washington, and there is danger in every move toward centralizing power there."

The speaker said he could not help mentioning the program of so-called progressives, in discussing government bureaus. To carry out such a program would mean the creation in Washington of bureaus compared to which the bureau of internal revenue would look like a pigmy. The power of a small coterie of men in control of the employment list would be almost without limit.

"La Follette announces that the one paramount issue of the 1924 campaign is to break the power of the private monopoly system over the political and economic life of the American people. Whatever may be our ill, a national monopoly cannot be their cure."

An analysis of the budgets of European nations for the latest dates for which figures are available, made for Lloyd's Bank, Ltd., of London, show that "the same unhappy features" of military expenditures that closely approach the aggregate of all expenditures for peaceful purposes, persist, although somewhat mitigated. Henry Bell, general manager of that institution, said in another paper prepared for delivery. Discussing the Dawes plan, he said "Germany has to pay great sums of money, now and in the indeterminate future, for that which she has not and cannot pay. Let us be frank and recognize that that is a sum beyond her capacity to pay. It must one day be adjusted and settled at some possible lower figure."

IN YOUR OFFICE

Taking mid-day rests and simple exercises was a thing that stumped Mr. Mann and hits most other people.

But a few minutes should be stolen from every workday for relaxation or relaxing exercises.

Thus, though a man be sitting at his office desk or office table, he still and can take a few minutes off and perform his relaxing stunts right there and then.

Rise from your office chair and take a leisurely pose. Droop limply, relaxing at the waist, then at the knees, then drooping the head. Drop limply as possibly to the floor—better get a rug for this one.

Lie quietly for a few seconds and then rise to your feet, remaining as limp as possible. Swing arms back and forth at the side, keeping them loose.

Try this half a dozen times. People who do a great deal of walking or standing might try sitting down or lying down for several minutes, with eyes closed and body relaxed. (Copyright, 1924, The Lowell Sun.)

LOWELL MEN SENTENCED

John Tsaffaras Gets From Three to Five Years on Arson Charge

Peter and James Sokorelis Receive Sentences of Eighteen Months Each

Strathoulida Sokorelis Fined $100 Also in Connection With Local Fire

In superior criminal court at East Cambridge yesterday, John Tsaffaras was sentenced to from three to five years in state prison, Peter and James Sokorelis were each given sentences of 18 months in the house of correction, and Strathoulida Sokorelis was fined $100, on indictments relating to the burning of a building at 179 Broadway, this city, on July 23.

The defendants were released on bail when sentences were stayed, the cases going to the supreme court on exceptions.

Judge Lawton denied the motions of Edward J. Flinn, counsel for defendants, for new trials.

Assistant District Attorney Robert T. Rushnell delivered a brilliant address in moving for sentences, saying in part:

These cases are particularly difficult for the court to deal with. On the one hand lie the facts that the defendants, with the exception of Tsaffaras, have no criminal records. One of the defendants is a widow with three small children who will be left motherless, as well as fatherless, if she is imprisoned. Peter Sokorelis has a wife and no children. I assume the wife is young enough to take care of herself if he is imprisoned. James Sokorelis has a wife and two children. On the other hand lies the fact that the people of Lowell are entitled to protection against incendiary fire. During the past one and one-half years there have been in Lowell 12

What You Should Know about a baby's care

Illness is usually due to constipation. Quickly give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

THE young mother should watch which foods the baby relishes most, which foods and their quantity cause distress, and act accordingly.

The good health of a baby is largely a matter of intelligent attention to diet. Nevertheless, in spite of your efforts you will sometimes notice belching, flatulence, wind and symptoms of colicky pain.

Give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and thereafter vary the offending food. Syrup Pepsin is a laxative admirably suited to infants and children, as it is mild and wholly free from opiates and narcotics.

If you delay in giving it you will soon find the baby suffering from constipation, and that may lead to more serious illness. Half a teaspoonful promptly given will avoid trouble.

Many thousands of mothers have never given their babies any other medicine but Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and they have successfully raised large and sturdy families. The formula is not a secret, being a combination of Egyptian senna with pepsin, and agreeable aromatics. The ingredients are stated on the package. Mrs. Dewey Walker, Erida, N.M., and Mrs. R. Higginbotham, Otter Creek, Fla., are among the many who are firm believers that Syrup Pepsin has kept their families and themselves in good health.

No family with young children can afford to be without such a household medicine. It is effective, beneficial and safe regardless of your age and has been considered so for over thirty years. In consequence it is today the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, over 10 million bottles being sold annually.

You will find that Syrup Pepsin quickly brings relief in the severest chronic constipation, biliousness, lack of appetite, sleeplessness, headache, cankers, bad breath, and to stop a cold or fever.

Free Sample Bottle Coupon

These are people who very rightly prefer to try a thing before they buy it. Let them clip this coupon for their names and address to it, and send it to the Syrup Pepsin Co., 518 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois, and a free sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will be sent them postpaid by mail. Do not include postage. It is free.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $5.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

COULD NOT WALK BECAUSE OF PAIN

Bad Case of Woman's Illness Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I had such a bad case of female trouble that I could not walk because of the pains from inflammation. My back was all done up. I could hardly bend, could not go up stairs because of weakness, and no one could possibly be in worse shape than I was. I have taken 12 bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am a strong woman now and can work down any of my neighbors. They wonder how I can do so much work. I dare say that I have recommended your medicine to a thousand women. A little book was thrown at my door, and that is how I first learned of it."—Mrs. D. M. BEAUCHAMP, 1104 Morrison Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 93 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

of people, women and children, sleeping in their beds at night have been subjected to the peril of a horrible death.

"I believe that the court in imposing sentence in this case should take the view that adequate punishment for persons found guilty is the best deterrent for others likely to commit a similar offense. This theory of punishment is particularly sound in this type of case, where the criminals deliberately sit down, figure out the plan, the risks and the profits and proceed to put their plans into execution.

Tsaffaras is an old offender. He is now in the house of correction under sentence for an exactly similar offense; has also been found guilty by a jury of attempting to bribe an agent of the department of motor vehicles, and is apparently a confirmed criminal. I recommend that he be sent to state's prison for a term which your honor thinks commensurate with the offense.

Such sentence to take effect from and after the sentence which he is now serving in the house of correction. "The other male defendants—these cases should be such that it may not act as a deterrent to others—should be dealt with, with corresponding severity."

the generous encouragement and support offered me for the past several months by hundreds of friends and supporters throughout the city to become a candidate for mayor, I am compelled after a thorough consideration of the matter and for personal reasons alone to set aside my ambitions to again seek the office of mayor. This decision has not been arrived at without much regret. The loyalty and good will of my friends are something worth while and which I prize greatly. I would like to make the fight for their sake, if for nothing else, but I am satisfied they will recognize that one must consider a situation like this from all angles, and my business now is of such a nature as to make it imperative that I give my undivided time and attention to its proper development.

The duties of the mayor's office are exact and require practically all of one's time if they are to be performed acceptably. The citizens expect such kind of service and are entitled to it. It is this feature alone, of being unable to give the necessary time and attention to the details of the office which causes me, with no small degree of reluctance, to reach this decision.

For Better Toast—

TOASTING is a severe test of any bread. It takes real bread—bread like Betsy Ross—to make good toast. Betsy Ross toasts quickly and evenly, becoming delightfully crisp on the outside, and remaining fresh in the center. That's the way good toast always should be.

Betsy Ross is rich in the vital food elements we all require for bodily health. Much of its nourishment is taken from the generous portion of milk used in its making. This, and other choice ingredients, make Betsy Ross a loaf of exceptional food value.

Old Home Potato Bread

Your mother's bread tasted just like Old Home. We make this loaf just as she used to make bread, and it actually has that same delicious flavor. It's full of the same old-fashioned goodness, too. Why not try a loaf today?

DISAPPOINTED IN LOVE

Boston Girl Disappears After Leaving Note Indicating Intention to End Life

BOSTON, Oct. 23.—The Boston police were searching today for a young woman giving the name of Edith Hens of New York, who disappeared yesterday from a Boston hotel leaving a note indicating an intention to commit suicide. A letter addressed to the police was found in her room. It said that the writer had been disappointed in the man she loved and requested that reports of the incident be withheld from Boston and New York newspapers.

The girl's disappearance became known when a telegram addressed to her reached the hotel. It was signed with a man's given name, and said that the writer had "sacrificed all" and could do no more.

MEETING OF CLUB

CITIZENS AMERICAN

At a meeting of Club Citizens American, held last evening, executive committee reported and secretary and treasurer submitted their reports. The report of the financial secretary showed the club in a good financial condition. The committee in charge of the whist and dance held last Friday evening reported that the affair was most successful. Chairman Luganese of the committee announced that the annual Halloween costume and dancing party would be held Oct. 31 in the club hall. A special feature is being arranged on the program and the usual good time will be had by those attending.

At the business session presided over by President Raulo Dionio it was voted to hold a card and billiard tournament in the near future. Messrs. Harms, Paquin and Fenech were appointed to act on this committee.

Among the speakers of the evening were Messrs. Omer Allard, Arthur Lavale, J. Paquin and N. Massieu, the latter a member of the committee on naturalization. It was announced that next week's meeting will be of major importance.

COLONIAL HALL

GROWING POPULAR

The Stratfords are holding their Friday evening parties in Colonial hall in Palmer street this season. For the past two years they have held all their dances at the Highland club, but as the Stratford patronage represents practically every part of the city, a more centrally located hall was desirable for the convenience of all concerned.

The next Stratford party will be held tomorrow night in Colonial hall with Broderick's orchestra furnishing the music. The usual Stratford following is expected to be present to enjoy the evening's festivities.

DR. FOSDICK TRUSTEE OF SMITH COLLEGE

NORTHAMPTON, Oct. 23.—Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick of Union Theological seminary, who recently resigned from the First Presbyterian church of New York city, has been appointed trustee of Smith college. It was announced today. Dr. Fosdick will fill the place left vacant by H. Clifford Gallagher of Boston on the expiration of his 10-year term. DO YOU HUMOR YOUR STOMACH?

Read the Statement of a Vermont Woman Who Really Corrected Her Trouble

There are plenty of remedies by which you can relieve for the time heartburn, pain and gas on the stomach and can smother nervous sensations and can induce artificial sleep. You can humor your stomach by giving it predigested food. But when you take your next meal all your trouble begins afresh.

There is only one sensible thing to do. Strengthen the stomach and do away with the necessity for drugs and artificial foods. The stomach, once in proper condition, will do its own work better than any process devised by man can do it.

Mrs. Nettie Almsworth, of No. 81 Elm street, Montpelier, Vt., in describing her experience says: "I became run down through overwork and suffered a complete nervous breakdown. My stomach distressed me after meals and I was in misery from flatulency and gas. I tossed about, sleepless, at night and was steadily losing strength and weight."

"A friend who had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills following an attack of pneumonia, recommended the treatment to me and I decided to give the remedy a trial. I took seven boxes in all and was completely restored to health. My nervousness disappeared and I now sleep well and eat without distress. I can't speak too highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for I owe my present health to them. Two of my friends later took the treatment on by enthusiastic recommendation and I am glad to say that both of them improved."

"The tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has a strong principle as its basis and its success in many stubborn cases is its best endorsement. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood and strike at the root of all diseases caused by bad blood. They contain no harmful stimulants or opiates, are perfectly safe and create no drug habit. Every dyspeptic should read, 'What to Eat and How to Eat.' Write the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a copy. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Adv."

ANNUAL RECITAL BY PROF. BOND'S PUPILS

The many friends and relatives of the pupils of Prof. G. Bond crowded Colonial hall to capacity last evening on the occasion of the annual fall recital. A well balanced program of vocal selections together with several violin selections by Walter Murphy accompanied by M. Eugene Guilbault, pianist, kept the large gathering to the highest pitch of appreciation.

Numbers well within the reach of the singers were capably given. Miss Alma Souard, who was the accompanist for the entire program greatly enhanced the presentation by her artistic playing which had always a prominent part in the execution of the various vocal movements.

A feature of the evening's entertainment was the rendering of "It is Enough" from Mendelssohn's "Elijah" by Mr. Bond who delighted those present with several encores. The program was in full as follows:

GOV. SMITH AT UTICA

Appeared on Platform 24 Hours After His Republican Opponent

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Governor Alfred E. Smith has completed his tour of the western and central counties and today returns to the capital district, where he will make two addresses before going to New York to campaign in Westchester county and the greater city. He speaks tonight at Troy and tomorrow at Albany, leaving for the metropolis probably on Sunday afternoon.

Governor Smith's appearance on a Utica platform 24 hours after his republican opponent, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, had vacated it, called out a crowd so large that it was necessary to close the doors of the Majestic theatre nearly an hour before he spoke and to spread his speech by means of amplifiers to throngs on the street outside the building, in the lobby of the Hotel Utica and in the area way behind the theatre.

PARKER LECTURES TO BEGIN ON SUNDAY

The Sunday afternoon series of Moses Greeley Parker lectures is to begin next Sunday afternoon at the Memorial Auditorium with a lecture by Hon. Frederick A. Wallis and vocal solo by Miss Plisco, the well-known baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Everyone who heard Mr. Wallis at the recent joint meeting of the chamber of commerce with the Rotary club and the Lions club will be eager to hear him again upon the topic, "Americanizing the Immigrant." A subject which he did not cover when here before. Probably no man in America is better qualified to discuss our relations with the newcomers to this country than Mr. Wallis. For many years he was United States commissioner of Immigration at Ellis Island. At present he is commissioner of correction for the city of New York and takes an active part in all important civic enterprises.

Mr. Plisco has long been a favorite of Lowell audiences and his coming is being looked forward to with great interest by a host of friends who knew him when he lived in Lowell some years ago.

As usual the doors will be open to ticket holders from 2.15 to 2.45, after which time the public will be admitted up to the capacity of the Auditorium.

RED TRIANGLE VILLAGE
Yesterday was election day in "Red Triangle Village," mythical municipality made up of the dormitory residents of the Y.M.C.A. Robert M. Trask, a third floor man, was the successful candidate for mayor, winning by two votes from Fred Seaton, fourth floor resident. The villagers will have the usual inaugural dinner tonight at 6.15 o'clock at which the mayor and ward councilors will be inducted into office. Archibald D. Grant, retiring mayor, will conduct the ceremony.

A SMALL, FIVE-ROOM HOUSE WITH ALL GOOD POINTS OF A LARGER HOME

Often in a while one finds a small house design that has all the good points of a much larger place. The house shown is one of these. It is a Colonial type, in story-and-a-half effect.

A small lot is sufficient, since the size of the house is only 20 by 28 feet. Each of its five rooms is good sized, and has light and ventilation from two directions. One bedroom is unusually large—19 feet 2 inches by 10 feet 6 inches.

A Colonial exterior is always a good selection, because it will always appeal to people of good taste. It can also be carried out in easily available materials, which can be had in the best standard grades at reasonable cost.

The porch juts out from the house so as to take advantage of every breeze. The small entrance hall is unusually well thought out, since it furnishes access to living room, dining room and second floor, and yet takes a very small space. The boxed stair is an economical feature, as is also the single chimney which serves the whole house.

There are good wall spaces in the living room for the arrangement of furnishings. It is so arranged also that it is just a step to the kitchen and to the basement.

In the dining room, one's eyes are attracted at once by the pair of simple and useful corner china closets. The whole house.

COLLEGE CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

At the annual meeting of the College club, held last evening in the main ballroom of Hotel Marlborough, interesting talks were given by members who went abroad this summer, a dinner was enjoyed and a business session held, there being over 100 members present.

The hall was prettily decorated with autumn leaves, and marigolds, the color scheme being yellow and black, with streamers of yellow and black arranged in a centerpiece and along the walls.

A musical program was also given by Mrs. H. Spaulding and Miss Ruth Boulger, Miss Emma L. Bradley who was announced that "Timothy's Quest," a screen production would be shown at Keith's theatre Saturday morning, Nov. 8, from 9:15 to 11:30. The annual play will be given sometime in December.

Those in charge of the dinner last evening were Mrs. Lewis E. MacBrayne, Mrs. William A. Liddell, Miss Margaret V. Spear and Miss Helen M. Whitcomb.

There will be check dancing at the Commodore ballroom this evening with "Mae" Hallett's orchestra furnishing the music. The customary dancing program will be offered and the members of the troupe will contribute a few comedy numbers to make the evening enjoyable. The admission is 10 cents. Hallett and his jazz artists will be the attraction at this hall on Saturday evening.

Manager Roane announces a real treat for the dancing fans of this city for Friday evening. Ray Miller and his orchestra, direct from the Arcadia ballroom, New York, will hold the pit at the Commodore on the evening in question and from reports a big night is looked for. Miller's team enjoys a fine reputation in the musical world and the press speaks highly of his organization. This team, like many others, has been heard on the radio by local followers of the pastime. If you are seeking a night of genuine pleasure visit the Commodore on Friday evening. Dancing will be in order from 8:30 until 1 and the admission is 50 cents.

BABY CONTEST AT CHERRY & WEBB STORE

The results of the baby contest conducted by Nurse Barnstead, for the Cherry & Webb company, are announced today. First prize, Frank Howard, Jr., 13½ months, 30 pounds, son of Mrs. Frank Howard, 1088 Lakeview avenue; second prize, Gerard Tremblay, nine months, 27½ pounds, son of Mrs. Arthur Tremblay, 15 Sixth avenue; third prize, Ruby Heslin, 13 months, 25½ pounds, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Heslin, 74 Westford street.

Hundreds of Lowell mothers entered their babies in the unique contest, and gratifying indeed were the results. Nurse Barnstead came to Lowell from Chicago to tell mothers and prospective mothers of this city how to dress babies comfortably, inexpensively and in such a way that it is impossible for them to suffer from pins and hard buttons. She was only too glad to give advice and to talk to all the mothers without charge.

The three above prizes of $10, $5 and $2.50, respectively, were awarded for the best babies brought in, and weighed during that period.

BRIDGE HEARING TOMORROW NIGHT

There will be a public hearing in the council chamber tomorrow night on the proposal that the city borrow $125,000 for the purpose of erecting a steel and concrete bridge over the Beaver brook at Conduit avenue. Following this the council will vote on the appropriation order. One public hearing was held on the matter last evening and the council committee on finance later went unanimously in favor of the order but voted to hold a public hearing, with a view to avoiding land damage suits, before making their report.

Despite statements to the effect that the council has passed the proposal it has yet to come up for final action. Premature criticism of the council for passing an order that has yet to come before it for final action is regarded by some as an unwarranted showing of the mayor's hand in the matter and is believed to intimate executive veto should the proposal pass.

WOMAN TALKS ON PROPOSED CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

Mrs. Scanlon Addressing League of Catholic Women Here Declares Proposed Amendment is Entering Wedge into Educational Fields Under a Labor Guise

"The proposed child labor amendment is an entering wedge into educational fields under a labor guise," stated Mrs. Frank Scanlon, state president of the Margaret Bront league and a prominent member of the Boston League of Catholic Women, in a talk on the child labor bill given in Liberty hall last evening, in connection with a meeting of the civic department of the local League of Catholic Women. Mrs. Eva Blanchard, chairman.

In urging her auditors to vote no on Referendum No. 7 on November 4, Mrs. Scanlon said in part as follows: "Outside the ballot your greatest weapon is public opinion. It has been the safeguard of America for many years, as it meant spreading of authority. Today, unfortunately, the principle is to gather up this authority of the states into one central power in Washington.

"The child labor bill has nothing to do with child labor."

GRIDIRON BATTLE BETWEEN TIGERS AND HOOSIERS TO BE THRILLER

Capt. Walsh, Bulwark of Notre Dame Line at Center, Will Be Out of Game—May Produce Crack Through Which Tigers May Get Jump

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (By the Associated Press.)—The red of divination which wavers with uncertainty over the gridiron spread, hunting hidden dynamite, points this week to Princeton.

Snorting fans are preparing to follow a strong effort this season, the meeting between the Tigers and Knute Rockne's Notre Dame Hoosiers may be well worth seeing.

On the surface, the Hoosiers, victors last fall by a score of 25 to 2 and having already rough-riden the Army with a similar effort this season, will be easy winners over a Tiger team that was outplayed by Lehigh and escaped defeat from Navy only by a strong bluff for victory.

But football games between intelligent teams are subject to emotional influences stronger than the physical. The Princeton and Notre Dame elevens have always been instruments upon which enthusiasm and spirit played.

Notre Dame, with physical odds in its favor, has no great urge to its spiritual at quality. Princeton, on the other hand, is a team of information that comes from the Tiger campus indicates that Princeton is doing its best to win.

Notre Dame enters the contest emotionally cold against a group of mad jungle cats, the absence of Capt. Alvin Walsh at center, acknowledged

Al Diamond and Wee Willie Woods Meet in Moody Club Main Event

Appearing here for the first time in three years, Al Diamond, former local boy who has made good in New York pugilistic circles, hopes to convince his old pals and admirers of his class when he faces Wee Willie Woods of Scotland in the main event of the Moody club card in the Crescent ring tonight. Diamond is the possessor of the sneaking left hook of any flyweight now boxing. Lew Perfitelli, champion of England, is his opponent. Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, Tiny Trinkle, Billy Hill, now a stablemate of Diamond's, Joe Melillo and Victor Ritchie, all sport the same presented by Diamond. It seems to all who know the boy that he has a penchant for the ears of opponents. Diamond has organized Perfect fights three times, losing one decision and holding that clever boy even on the other occasions. It was in the third Perfect fight that Diamond was defeated, and it appeared to all else enough to view the proceedings that Lew was willing to quit in the fourth stanza, due to the fact he was suffering from his puffing ear.

While it is a well known fact that the wee Willie Woods is a good fighter, he is not a puncher at all. In fact, in his fight with Al, he will be in a quandary to follow Diamond's original style of milling. Regardless of the outcome, it ought to be a whole lot of fun.

In the semi-finals, Pat Hense, the Haverhill Iceman, and Brad Kennedy, the Bradford haymaker, will meet. They are deadly fighters, who can hit and take it. This number looks like a hummer.

"Punch" Mayo announced today that he will issue a challenge to the winner of the Diamond-Woods bout tonight in behalf of Frankie Hebert, local flyweight.

EAST BOSTON TEAM TO PLAY BUTLERS HERE

With 56 points already to their credit and without a first loss against the East Boston team, the Sacred Hearts of East Boston will come to Lowell to play the Butlers on the old fair grounds Sunday. Their record for this season is 10 wins and 1 loss, the following clubs: Lincoln A.C. of Somerville, 19-0; Durrill A.C. of Roxbury, 20-0; Essex A.A. of Cambridge, 48-0. The East Boston team is captained by McLaughlin, former backfield star of Amherst and one of the best men playing semi-pro. The man the Butlers will have to watch, however, is Beaton, former fullback of Fordham university, and one of the best backs in the game. In addition to Capt. McLaughlin and Beaton, the squad includes Dorgan, who played halfback for the Pittsford State football team; John O'Brien, who played halfback for the Pittsford State football team; and the two Cunningham, former East Boston high school stars, and Haliday of Boston Latin. The East Boston team is a hard fighting, never-say-die outfit, who plays football because it loves the game.

The Butlers will have "teak" practice at the Butler school tonight at 7 o'clock. The chances are Red O'Hare will have to use his "his" Sunday to win from the East Boston boys. For this year the Butlers have nothing but off-the-line plays with a few passes sprinkled in. Sunday they will have to unhook everything they have, and Armstrong will probably get into action Sunday for the first time this season. Armstrong is one of the best tacklers playing the plebeian game. He is a hard fighting, never-say-die outfit, who plays football because it loves the game.

As usual, competent officials will handle the game and adequate police protection will be provided for the largest crowd of the season.

BY BILLY EVANS

Hardly a football season passes without some wonder team making its appearance only to fade out the following year.

Notre Dame is the perennial wonder team of the gridiron. Year after year under the direction of Knute Rockne, its famous coach, Notre Dame turns out real champions.

In many ways Knute Rockne is the most unusual character in football. He looks for no soft spots, arranges no hand-picked schedule, takes them as they come, the tougher the better.

This year Notre Dame plays an eight-game schedule. There isn't a single setup in the entire list.

Five Hard Games

On five successive Saturdays Notre Dame plays such worthy opponents as the Army, Princeton, Georgia Tech, Wisconsin and Nebraska. Some schedule.

Notre Dame takes them on from all sections of the country. The Army,

HOPE INCREASES LEAD

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—While Huppe, half the billiard champion, added 17 points to his lead yesterday in his scheduled 400 point three-cushion match with Anglo Kleckhefer, by winning the fourth ball 50 to 52, the score now is Huppe 200, Kleckhefer 118. Each of the contestants had a high run of six.

Gridiron Cops

Lowell high and Lowell textile play out of town this week, the high school team engaging Fitchburg in the upstate city, while Textile goes to Worcester to play Worcester Tech.

General demoralization has broken out in the ranks of the Haverhill high team. Indifference has led to the dropping of the captain and one or two other star players. Haverhill has been tied once and lost three this season, which is something unheard of in that city. And Lowell is coming, don't forget that!

It seems to be an unusually big year for local teams. The Butlers, O.M.I. Cadets, Indians, Ponies, Belvideres, St. Peter's Cadets, Tiger A.A. and Kenwood Rovers are going strong.

Next Sunday afternoon on the old fair grounds, the Butler A.A. heads toward a city championship, will tackle the strong East Boston team in what promises to be a stiff argument. Manager Walsh of the Butlers figures a taking care of a crowd closely anticipated the 5000 mark. The enormous financial patronage being shown the Butlers this year makes possible the arrangement of games with fast visiting crews.

Judging by past Butler exhibitions, the boys who go in there and take all kinds of knocks without flinching are deserving of the patronage of the fans. And fandom is beginning to realize its obligation to these boys. People pay big money to see college games. Some of the local elevens have just as much color. The Butlers are an example.

Sunday's clash on the fair grounds will get under way at 2:30 o'clock, with competent officials in charge. All the old Butler standbys, including Conley, Mullin, McCardle, Conway, Leugair, Giffith, Shuchan, Conner, Whitaker, the Chares and the McMahons will be in togs prepared to give the East Bostonians a bitter taste of the way the game is played from a Butler standpoint.

This East Boston team, on the other hand, is no slouch. It has been meeting and defeating the best that Boston could offer this season and has strengthened materially for the Lowell encounter.

Talk of a Butler-O.M.I. Cadet clash continues to increase. It will come ultimately. A game of such magnitude goes bigger than the local elevens. It should be the climax to the local season, and probably it will be. One team is sure to lose, unless the game results in a tie, and no team usually loses more than once in a season for a team to not thusly now.

An Lowell high plays in Lawrence Thanksgiving this year, we would suggest the Cadets and Butlers secure Alumni field for their annual argument on the afternoon of that day.

The O.M.I. clan travels to Peabody Sunday, for a set-to with the University A.C. of that burg. A large crowd of local rooters will accompany the seven.

The first street oval, as on the past several Sundays, will be the scene of a hot clash next Sunday when the Butlers meet the Centralville Ponies. Both teams have defeated the other in the past. The Butlers are taking the other into camp Sunday.

The Ponies have been meeting with better luck since they learned to play with heavier opposition. After dropping games to the Big Butlers and the O.M.I. Cadets, they gave the St. Peter's Cadets a good contest and last Sunday defeated the Tigers by two touchdowns.

In that Tiger game, the radical element was largely lacking, and the fans were satisfied. Football is football, not a boxing game.

The Butler Seconds are not a bunch of substitutes, as the name "Seconds" might imply. In Sunday's game with the Ponies, the Butler Seconds hope to be "first."

When the Acce Athletics travel to Peabody Sunday to play the St. Peter's outfit of the city, a large following of local rooters will go to see them. Trucks will leave Cross and Fletcher streets at 1 p. m.

The Wanderers have recuperated from their defeat by the St. Peter's Cadets last Sunday and will journey to Nashua next Sunday to play the Eagle A.C. of that city.

All members of the Ponies are requested to report for practice on the first street oval this evening. Bill Crossland will be in charge. New players in preparation for the Butler Seconds will be tried out.

The Butler A.A. team will hold a secret session in the Butler school hall at 7:15 o'clock tonight. A full membership is urged.

Dartmouth is being figured a 10 to 7 favorite over Harvard in the Stadium Saturday. Judging from the big Green's performance against the Yale team, the odds are none too high. Harvard has a smart club, however. She came back strong to defeat Holy Cross last week, and with return of George to the lineup, Dartmouth will have a very good chance to win. People will be among these present.

Lowell's John McManmon may get into the Notre Dame Princeton game at Princeton, N. J. He plays a kick position. McManmon's younger brother has returned to the local high school team along with Jack Henan and a few other stars of last year.

For Saturday morning's program, we have with us the Nationals and the Walker A.C. will try conclusions at Highland park. Both teams will hold practice sessions tomorrow night.

A third Butler team, the Butler Juniors, has sprung into prominence. The Juniors would like a game with the Glenora for Saturday afternoon. Games may be arranged by calling 1215-16 and asking for Bill. This paper will also handle challenges.

A large following of students will accompany the Textile team to Worcester. Football spirit at the Moody street school is at fever heat for the first time in several years.

AT C.M.A.G. HALL

Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at C.M.A.G. hall in Pawtucket street, "Le Chantrelle de Dieu," the latest French screen success, will be shown under the auspices of the League of the Sacred Heart of St. Joseph's parish. The proceeds of the program will be donated to the fund for religious vocations. Already a large number of tickets have been distributed and indications point to a good attendance at every performance.

MR. HAMEL HONORED

A reception was tendered George T. Hamel of New London, Conn., who has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bolide of Centralville for the past two weeks. At the latter's last evening. A number of friends were in attendance and a complete speaking set was presented to the guest of honor, six-year-old Mario Bolide making the presentation. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable entertainment given, following the presentation.

FEW TITLE BOUTS EXPECTED

Lightweight and Featherweight Divisions to Front as Indoor Season Opens

Elimination Tournament to Determine Successor to Dundee Attracts Interest

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—This year of pugilistic activity which has revolved with diminished rapidity during the past outdoor season, especially in championship circles, probably will not regain much of its momentum with the arrival of the indoor season prospects for title bouts, outside of the light heavyweight and featherweight divisions, are uncertain.

The state athletic commission's proposal for a featherweight elimination tournament to determine a successor to Johnny Dundee, who voluntarily relinquished the crown when he outgrew the division, has revived interest among the 125-pounders and before the indoor season opens it seems certain that the featherweight crown will rest upon the head of a new champion.

Negotiations now are pending whereby Mike McFigue, present incumbent of the world's light heavyweight title, will lose his crown upon the market against either Paul Berlenbach or Gene Tunney, the American champion, but nothing definite has yet been arranged.

The collapse of the lightweight elimination tournament, fostered by the state athletic commission to determine a logical challenger for the 135-pound crown now worn upon the brow of Henry Leonard, means that Leonard will remain inactive for the present at least, unless there is a renewed effort to match him with Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion.

Doncho Villa's departure for his native land, the Bulgarian, means that the flyweight division will remain somewhat inactive until he returns for the 1925 outdoor season.

Abe Goldstein's bantamweight and Kid Sullivan's junior lightweight titles, both of which have been defended recently, remain in the market but they have few formidable rivals in sight.

Walker, the 147-pound king, is under suspension in New York, but plans an active campaign elsewhere. He will go out of his class when he boxes Jack Malone, St. Paul middleweight, Oct. 23.

Harry Greb's middleweight title may be risked before the season is over but there is no prospect of any title activity in the heavyweight division, where Champion Jack Dempsey has become strictly an outdoor performer.

Several of his challengers, however, including Harry Wills, Luis Firpo, Jack Renault and Tom Gibbons, may battle for recognition during the winter.

Several matches of non-championship calibre are brewing to narrow down the field of championship contenders, but taken as a whole the boxing situation for the coming indoor season does not measure up to the standard of activity for the past three or four years in which many champions have come and gone and new faces have appeared in the limelight of pugilistic accomplishment.

COL. EMERY'S WOUND NOT SERIOUS

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 23.—Physicians today predicted a speedy recovery for Colonel John G. Emery, former national commander of the American Legion and veteran of several major engagements in the World war, who was shot yesterday by Ched-doll Simpson. Unless infection sets in, the doctors say the wound will not prove serious.

Emery was shot after Simpson came to the office and demanded to know whether Mrs. Simpson was there. On learning that she was employed there, Simpson charged Emery with attempting to break up his home. Mrs. Simpson is a stenographer in Mr. Emery's real estate office.

Mr. Emery stated that he knew nothing about Mrs. Simpson except that she had told him she was suing her husband for a divorce.

Mrs. Simpson, in a statement, said that her husband's assertion that Emery had broken up his home was "absurd."

Simpson, who is held in default of bail, is to be arraigned today on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, the prosecuting attorney announced.

$25,000 FOR GOLDSTEIN FOR GENARO BOUT

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Abe Goldstein, bantamweight champion of the world, will be guaranteed $25,000 if he consents to meet Frankie Genaro, American flyweight champion, for the title, Frank Costello, a backer of Genaro, has announced.

Tex Rickard has consented to promote the bout if Goldstein accepts. The bantam king will be offered 37 1/2 per cent of the gate by Rickard and Costello will be responsible for the amount necessary to make Goldstein's share $25,000.

His Machine Held Up Traffic
Continued

Judge Enright fined Frederic A. Baird of Boston $10 for this offense. Baird was arrested on October 2 by Traffic Officer Harry Maroney for allowing his car to remain parked in Prescott street, near Willis' market for nearly 15 minutes. The officer wanted that electric car and other vehicles were held up at the corner of Prescott and Merrimack streets because of the parked machine. Traffic Supervisor Sergt. Edward J. Connor and Patrolman Edward J. Planagan offered similar testimony.

In relation to automobile law violators, Acting Superintendent Hugh Downey stated this morning that refusal of motorists to have lights showing while cars are parked may result in prosecutions. Some motorists, he said, leave their cars in front of their homes all night without lights.

MAYOR IS PREACHER

Mayor T. F. Shouse of Danville, Ill., is a Methodist clergyman. He holds prayer meetings in the office of Chief of Police James Wright whenever he believes that divine aid or guidance is necessary in the conduct of the city. There are frequent cases where men or women arrested by the city officers are repentant and express a desire to lead a better life.

Mayor Shouse, when satisfied that they are sincere, holds an impromptu prayer service and has had the satisfaction of seeing many persons to whom he and the chief of police have extended a helping hand, go straight.

MATRIMONIAL
Mr. Harry L. Edwards and Miss Lilian Wagner, two popular residents of Pawtucketville, were united in marriage last evening at the home of the bride's parents in Melrose avenue by Rev. Percy E. Thomas. Miss Rao Clark and Mr. Percy Edwards, a brother of the bridegroom, attended the couple. The bride wore a beautiful gown of broad satin trimmed with fur and pearls. Her lace veil was caught up with a band of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a gown of orchid crepe and carried Ophelia roses. The house was prettily decorated with autumn foliage and cut flowers, the color scheme carried out being pink and white. Following the ceremony a reception was held and a wedding supper served at which guests were present from this city, Worcester and Bait-Creek, Mich. The bride's gift to her attendant was a butterfly locket and gold chain, while the best man was presented a cigar case by the bridegroom. After an extended wedding tour to the Mohawk trail, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will make their home at 588 Varnum avenue.

The injured woman was taken to St. John's hospital where her injuries were treated.

They are the largest body of newspaper readers in the city, and few of them read any other paper because they don't need to.

There is only one way for the merchant to reach this large, thrifty, industrious and intelligent body of readers, and that is through the columns of THE SUN.

The passport frauds were revealed by the American consul at Cherbouze, France, who reported there were irregularities in the papers of Rumanians who attempted to board steamers for the United States. When an attempt was made to take him into custody, however, he shot himself and was taken to a hospital where it was said his condition was grave.

The scandal is considered in political circles as certain to result in the resignation of the general's brother and the reorganization of the cabinet, particularly since other cabinet members are reported to be involved.

Another effort to reach the 85 miles an hour mark was scheduled for today. The test was made on the race track here. Depree was badly crushed when the racer overturned and is in a hospital here.

BELIEVE SUICIDE
IS LOWELL MAN

Attired in clothing purchased for the most part in Lowell stores, the body of an unidentified man, 50 years of age, weighing about 165 pounds, and five feet, nine inches in height, was found in a Haverhill lodging house this morning with a .22 calibre bullet in his brain, and a revolver of the same dimension by his side. Haverhill police say he is a suicide.

Inasmuch as the dead man wore a black suit bearing the trade-mark of the old Merrimack Clothing company of this city, and a stamped Bon Marche, Lowell, together with a medal on his watch chain bearing the seal of the City of Lowell and the dates, July 3, 1 and 5, 1915, it is thought that the victim might be a Lowell man. Captain David Patria of the local department, is investigating.

According to word received from the Haverhill police this morning, the man had the room in the Haverhill lodging house only last night. His landlady found him dead when she went to awaken him this morning.

Besides the black suit and tie, the victim, when last seen alive, wore a gray hat and brown oxford shoes.

LOIS ROACH

By GENE COHN
N.Y.A. Service Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The childlike westerner—hmm—

Lois Roach peeps out from under her 10-gallon hat, her mouth curved in a big, generous smile. Then she laughs heartily.

"Say, there isn't a range that a cowboy can't ride. You can stick up skyscrapers and dig subway but turn a cowboy loose and he'll know it as well as he knows a pathless plain. "But take a dude—you know, that's what we call the cots from the east, and turn him loose in the badlands. Then see who's the childlike babe-in-the-woods. Put a dude on a street car or a River and he's all right, but corral him in the cow country and what happens?"

"There's no place under the sun you need be 'fear'd to send a cowboy. We've had 'em in London and Paris, and they gave the boys over there something to remember for a long time." Lois Roach, it might be explained, is known as the most beautiful of cowgirls and she's riding with Tex Austin's Rodeo, just back from the Wembley fair, England.

What does she think of the feminine products of make-up, and pseudo-polish?"

"Listen—girls are like steers; they wear the brand of the outfit they belong to. If they've got to be identified by the lipstick and the headed-eye brand, they're going to have it. Society happens to own the ranch and the old man fat is heading the round-up. They get caught in the herd and away they go."

"Myself—I never found anything the matter with sunshine. But how are you going to get acquainted with fresh air and sun if you're herded in a 20-story skyscraper? I don't blame the girls. It just happens they're riding for a bum outfit."

Salisbury Beach Garage Man Testifies for Government in Trial of Five Others

25 or 30 Loads of Liquor Brought to Beach—Police-man Helped Unload It

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—Anthony Caramagno of Salisbury beach, who pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy in connection with the operations of an alleged rum-running ring at beach resorts of northeastern Massachusetts, testified for the government in federal court today at the trial of five of those indicted with him.

They were Harry F. Burnham, acting chief of the Plain Island coast guard crew; Dennis J. Kellher of Salisbury and Newburyport, Herman L. Rich of Newburyport and Carl Voss of Gloucester. Ruel S. Getchell, selectman of Salisbury, previously pleaded guilty, and Harry F. Congdon, selectman and chief of police of Salisbury, and Everett R. George, also a selectman, entered pleas of nolo.

Caramagno said that in the spring of last year he purchased a garage at Salisbury beach which he conducted in partnership with Congdon. Congdon, he said, suggested that he put some money in rum-running operations, which he did. He said that 25 or 30 loads were brought in, and that after each was landed he gave Chief Congdon $150 to divide. Getchell, George and Burnham were to receive $100 each, the witness said.

Caramagno told of conversations with Congdon, in one of which he said the chief complained that "Scribner" was stealing all the money. The witness said Kellher also admitted to him complicity in rum smuggling. Once, Caramagno said, Getchell had complained to him that Congdon had acted unfairly with him. Once, he said, Congdon remarked he was glad to do doing business with Burnham, as the latter had received only $400 for 17 loads.

Caramagno said that a Salisbury policeman was always on hand to aid in unloading the liquor, which was mostly alcohol.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 8

Jack nestled down with his arm around Flop. And Flop worked his way in under Jack's other arm. The trio were just about asleep when a terrible clap of thunder roared, followed by a vivid streak of lightning. Jack sat up straight with a jump. It seemed that they were right in the storm cloud.

"Is it going to rain on us?" he asked the aviator. "Oh, no," came the reply, "I'll be up above this rain cloud in just a minute." Then Jack felt the plane swing sideways and then turn suddenly upwards. Looking out he saw that they were passing right between two great black clouds.

Suddenly the last rays of the sun broke out and Jack realized that they had reached the top of the rain clouds. He peered out in front of the plane and watched the sun settle down below the horizon. Night time was almost at hand so he decided to go back to sleep. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWIN
by Olive Roberts Barton
WHAT HIGGLEDY-PIGGLEDY SAID

DADDY GANDER STOPPED HIS MAGIC DUST PAN THEN AND THERE AND TOLD THE TIN ROOSTER ALL ABOUT IT.

"The first thing to do," said Daddy Gander as he and the Twins rode along through the sky on his magic dust-pan, "is to go to the top of the highest mountain in the world. Then we can look down and see everything. It shouldn't be a bit of trouble for us to see the House That Jack Built."

"What's that? What's that?" asked a voice along by. "What did you say?"

"It was the tin rooster on the barn that was speaking, much to their surprise. The rooster was speaking—not the barn!"

"What did you say about the House That Jack Built?" he heard you say something out of my tin ear?"

Daddy Gander stopped his magic dust-pan then and there and told the tin rooster all about it.

"Stupid!" said the tin rooster whirling about to north, then to east, then to south, then to west in his excitement. "The right person to ask is my cousin The-Cock-That-Crowed-in-the-Morn. Go and ask him at once. He rules the barnyard below. He ought to know all about it. Because he woke the Driest-All-Shaven-and-Shorn."

"Who married the Man-All-The-Red-and-Torn to the Maiden-All-Forlorn," said Nancy.

"Of course—of course," crowed the tin rooster turning south, then east, and then north again. "I see you know all about it. If the Rooster-That-Crowed-in-the-Morn can tell you something about Mister and Mrs. Gander as he and the Twins rode along through the sky on his magic dust-pan, 'is to go to the top of the highest mountain in the world. Then we can look down and see everything. It shouldn't be a bit of trouble for us to see the House That Jack Built.' Especially as they are so poor!"

"Common sense," said Daddy Gander soundly. "And good advice! Thank you, Tin Rooster. Giddap!" he said to his magic dust-pan. The magic dust-pan left the barn-roof and floated down to the barnyard.

"Where is the Cock-That-Crowed-in-the-Morn?" asked Daddy Gander of all the chickens and ducks and turkeys and geese. "We have something very special to ask."

"He's gone!" cried Higgledy-Piggledy. "He and the Cow-With-the-Grumpy-Dog-That-Worried-the-Cat-Is-gone and the cat, too, and if you ask me I might say that even the rat is gone also."

"What rat?" said Nick. "The Rat-That-Ate-the-Milk-That-Lays-in-the-House-That-Jack-Built," said Higgledy-Piggledy.

"Well, well, well," said Daddy Gander. "It's all as clear as P. O. R. The Man and the Maid got married. And they have set up housekeeping in the House-That-Jack-Built and taken part of the barnyard with them."

"Mind you, I'm not just saying so," said Higgledy-Piggledy. "I'm just

FOR SHOES AND RUBBERS
Keep a large denim bag in your closet to hold rubbers and overshoes so they do not get thru on the floor and give an untidy appearance.

MANY GIRDLES SHOWN
While many of the gowns this season are beltless, there are many interesting girdles shown; narrow folds of fabric, thick gold cord, and ropes of jewels, or combinations of lace and fabric are used.

USE COLD WATER
Cold water is preferable to warm for scrubbing boards and wooden dishes since it does not sink into the wood and dries very quickly.

guessing so. But it looks like common sense to me."

"We'll go to the highest mountain," said Daddy Gander again. "Then we can get a view of the world and see where the lost house is. Come on, children!"

And Daddy Gander and the Twins hopped on the magic dust-pan and flew away.

SIXTH MASSACHUSETTS VETERANS ASSOCIATION TO MEET HERE

Men Who Took Part in Porto Rican Campaign Will Hold Annual Reunion at Memorial Auditorium—
Visitors Will Tour Cities in Automobiles

FRANK DODGE

ALEXANDER B. MITCHELL

Veterans of the Sixth Massachusetts regiment who took part in the Porto Rican campaign of the Spanish-American war in 1898, will hold their annual reunion in the Auditorium Saturday afternoon and evening.

This event will mark the first time in the history of the Sixth Regiment association that the reunion has been held in this city, and in only one or two other years has the annual gathering ever been held in any city but Boston.

The association numbers approximately 700 men, scattered throughout the country, and it is expected that between 350 and 400 will be in attendance at the reunion Saturday.

Arrangements for the event are in charge of a committee of local veterans of the Sixth, headed by Frank Dodge as chairman, assisted by Alexander B. Mitchell as secretary-treasurer, Arthur P. Salmon, honorary member of the organization; Colby T. Kittredge, Wilfred D. Kraft, Gardner W. Pearson, Charles J. Duffy, William M. Prescott, P. Henry Driscoll, Frank A. Boyce and Walter R. Joyce.

The regiment organization's officers are: Thomas J. Godley, chief of the Fitchburg police, president; Frank Dodge of Lowell, vice president; C. E. Patch, Stonham, secretary; and Thomas E. Todd of Boston, treasurer.

The tentative program for the reunion opens with registration for members at the veterans' quarters in the Memorial Auditorium at 12.30 o'clock. Following registration, the veterans will be taken on a tour of the city in automobiles provided by the Rotary club and chamber of commerce. After viewing the city's industries, schools and places of interest, the veterans will go to the Hotel range in Dracut, where (except general) good time had. A buffet luncheon will be served during the afternoon.

Returning to the veterans' wing of the Auditorium at 5 o'clock, the annual business meeting of the association will be held with President Godley presiding. Considerable business of interest will come up for action at the meeting.

Following the conclusion of business, a social hour will be enjoyed. At 7 o'clock, the veterans will gather in Liberty hall where the annual banquet will be held.

Among those invited to attend the banquet are members of the Old Sixth which fought in the Civil war, the commanders of the local G. A. R. posts in this city, Mayor Donovan, President Fisher of the chamber of commerce, Royal P. White, Hon. Charles A. Allen and Gen. Adolph Ames.

The entertainment program consists of a group of selections by the Mendelssohn Male quartet, solos by Mrs. Nettie Roberts and Miss Etta Thompson.

THE MAJOR POLISHES UP DUGAN & DIXON'S ACT

Scotch songs and wit by James R. Donnelly, a boxing exhibition by the Clancy twins, a sparring match by Young McKenzie and Peter Salley of the Boys' club, and a number of other features which have not yet been decided upon.

The Sixth regiment of the Spanish war was a direct descendant of the Sixth regiment which took part in the Civil war, and Lowell furnished two fully manned companies, C and G, captained by Alexander Gregg and William Fairweather. The regiment was mustered in May 12, 1898, at Framingham and went from there to Camp Alger, Va. Following a short training period, the regiment embarked from Charleston, S. C., for Cuba.

After hovering about the coast of Cuba for 21 days, the regiment was transported to Porto Rico, and took an active part in the campaign there. The following September it was transported back to this country and was mustered out of the service Jan. 21, 1899.

There are approximately 100 veterans of the Sixth in this city and they plan to make the annual reunion here next Saturday a banner event in the history of the regiment association.

DAVIS SAYS WEEKS "UNMUZZLED" MEMBER OF CABINET

Democratic Presidential Nominee Replies to War Secretary—Shows Weeks and Dawes at Odds—Takes Fling at War Dept. Strategy Board

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 23.—With an address scheduled for Cleveland tonight, John W. Davis, democratic candidate for president, was on his way east today, completing the last leg of his two weeks' final campaign drive in the middle west.

The train passed out of Indiana early today headed for Cleveland and thence on to New York, where the final drive of the candidate's personal campaign will be started Saturday.

Mr. Davis put the finishing touches on his Indiana tour last night at Evansville after speaking earlier in the day at Vincennes and for a brief period of time at Princeton.

In Evansville, he replied to Secretary Weeks' address in New York Tuesday evening, characterizing the war secretary as one of the still "unmuzzled" members of the cabinet.

Mr. Weeks, Mr. Davis said, had discovered a new antagonist for the republican nominee in the name of Governor Charles W. Bryan, the democratic vice-presidential candidate. The secretary's act, he declared, was a "bit of strategy so simple that I think the strategy board of the war department must have been working on it thirty days."

"Mr. Weeks has solemnly assured the people," Mr. Davis said, "that the real race for the presidency (this fall was not as General Dawes thinks, between President Coolidge and Senator La Follette, but between President Coolidge and Governor Bryan."

"I do not share Secretary Weeks' horror about the contingency (if it arose), Mr. Davis said, "I should not trouble for the destinies of my country if they were committed to a gentleman who, after having spent twenty years of his life in contact with public questions, received the largest majority ever given in his state for the office of chief executive and who, if the draft had not been made upon him by the democratic party, would have been re-elected by his fellow citizens by a majority greater than he enjoyed when they first inducted him into office."

COL. S. M. HEDGES DEAD
Was Former Head of Ancient and Honorables and Member of Gov. Brackett's Staff

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 23.—Colonel Sydney M. Hedges, former commander of the ancient and honorable artillery company of Boston and a member of Governor Brackett's staff, died suddenly last night at his home here.

He was 59 years old. He was born in St. Louis in 1844, received his early education in the schools of Cincinnati, and had been in business at various times in Chicago, New York and Hartford, Conn.

Colonel Hedges had been in the life insurance business in Boston since 1879.

On the Merrimack river and got a new postoffice for Lowell showed his lack of influence with the administration.

As for service of a constructive kind to this district for the twelve years he has been in office there is no evidence of any.

But he is asking re-election and his friends tell us that he is "unmuzzled," so that the democratic majorities of Lowell and Woburn, the two cities of the district, must suffer and bear their burden of lack of representation.

If this were a rich, opulent district, there might be some reason for the condition of indifference, but where we have a district teeming with industries the situation calls for vigilant attention and service on the part of the congressman.

"In a recent address by President Huxley of the Boston & Maine, he called attention to the development of New England with its mountains, lakes, rivers and seashore. 'Wouldn't that idea be worth developing for the interest of all concerned? Wouldn't it be worth considering to make a regional zone of New England, with the purpose in view of ordering and developing all the good features of this region of the country, and making it a mecca of attraction for the rest of the world to visit and enjoy?'"

"You already have imaginary divisions of the country. You have the northwest; you have the middle west; you have the east; you have the south. Why not have a unified New England with a commissioner or commissioners with authority and means to plan and develop and foster, not only the features referred to by Mr. Huxley, but the industrial interests as well, and the transportation system wouldn't be on the rocks, the textile interests wouldn't be slowly but surely slipping; that the mechanics and the toilers generally, whether by hand or head, would enjoy permanent satisfactory reward for their labor."

Wouldn't that be a consummation devoutly to be wished?

"You have many problems here that can be solved and solved satisfactorily. You have plenty of material, men and women of ability that you can call upon to look after your interests and the solution of your problems, who are glad and anxious to serve you, but you must first retire your present congressman and give these people an opportunity."

Revolt in Peking, City Isolated

ARMY OF "CHRISTIAN GENERAL" HAS REVOLTED IN PEKING

Seized City's Gates, Cut All Telegraph and Telephone Lines and Stopped Train Service, According to Information Reaching Tientsin

TIENTSIN, Oct. 23.—(By the Associated Press) Portions of the eleventh division of the Chinese army, under command of General Yu-Hsiang, "the Christian general," revolted at Peking today, seized the city's gates, cut all telegraph and telephone lines and stopped train service, according to reliable information reaching here.

General Feng and his army were supposed to have been at Jehol (Chengtehfu), about 100 miles north-east of Peking, where they were supposed to step on an expected advance from Mukden of the Manchurian army of Tso-Lin, who is making war on the central government at Peking.

Apparently General Feng never progressed beyond the great wall. An American naval wireless message from Peking, confirming the fact that the capital is cut off from communication with outside points, says that the city is in peaceful and that there is no cause for alarm. The reason for the isolation of the city has not been ascertained here.

Whether General Feng is acting independently in the present revolt or with the collusion of the Mukden government has not yet been learned. Rumors that General Feng was not in sympathy with the Chihli (central government) party have been current, however, ever since the outbreak of hostilities with Manchuria.

BOSTON, Oct. 23.—Expressing the belief that the federal income tax exercises a power of inquisition into the private affairs of citizens, Eliot Wadsworth, assistant secretary of the treasury, is an address prepared for delivery before the annual meeting of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts today, said "in due course, as the nation's expenses are reduced and the war debt liquidated, it should be possible to obtain sufficient revenue by other means of taxation."

"I wonder if we understand the true meaning of the power of this bureau which centers in Washington—how much the individual citizen yields in personal freedom to such a power, and how far the strong hand of government has forced itself into our personal affairs," he asked.

ATTEMPT TO CRACK SAFE

Burglars Made Unsuccessful Attempt to Rob Safe of Jamaica Bank

Break Discovered by Cashier—Blood Found on Bank Floor and the Sidewalk

BRAATTLEBORO, Vt., Oct. 23.—Burglars entered the Jamaica Savings bank at Jamaica before daybreak this morning and made an unsuccessful attempt to break open the safe. They broke through the steel wire door into the cashier's room and scattered papers about but found nothing of value to them. On leaving the building they piled open the front door with an iron bar.

John S. Robinson, cashier, who lives next door to the bank, lighted a lamp at 1 o'clock, and it is thought this may have frightened the burglars away. The break was discovered when Mr. Robinson went to the bank this morning. Blood was found on the bank floor and the sidewalk.

Sheriff Frank L. Wellman and State Attorney Arthur V. Piper of this place are making an investigation. The break is believed to be the work of amateurs. Photographs of fingerprints are being made by an expert, James Muzzy of Jamaica is president of the institution.

COOLIDGE URGES PRESERVATION OF INITIATIVE AND ENTERPRISE

Tells Committee of New York Business Men's Republican Association It "Is the Primary Thing Which We Have to Do in This Country"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Preservation of initiative and enterprise "is the primary thing which we have to do in our country," President Coolidge today told the executive committee of the New York Business Men's Republican Association, who called at the White House.

Freedom of initiative and enterprise goes with it, the president said, an obligation upon every business establishment "to give service" as well as goods to consumers.

Declaring the economic system of the government "fundamentally sound," the president criticized those who emphasize "out of all due proportion" its abuses. Correction of these abuses, he held, lies in the hands of those administering commerce and industry, and only they, he added, can prevent the necessity of government intervention.

"Already they have made great advances in this direction," he continued. "Their sense of responsibility has made steady growth during the last two score of years. We no longer hear the expression of indifference until the government 'fundamentally sound,'"

RIVER PIRATES TAKE COPPER

Dozen Men Hold Up Two Watchmen and Roundsman on New York Pier

Removed 10 Boxes of Copper Which They Evidently Thought Was Gold

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—A dozen river pirates held up two watchmen and a roundsman on Pier 59, North river, today and removed ten boxes of copper which they evidently thought was gold brought in on the liner Olympic. They escaped in a motor boat. Two robbers, with revolvers, forced Michael Maloy, watchman, into a waiting room and stood guard over him. Charles Campbell, another watchman, was then seized and bound. One of the pirates knocked him unconscious with the butt of a revolver. James Duffin, roundsman on the pier, becoming suspicious of the disappearance of the other two men, set out with his revolver drawn to investigate. The bandits threw a sack over his head and bound him.

TO SPEND DAY AT HAMILTON

Crowd at Depot Gets Fleet-ing Glimpse of Royal Visitor This Forenoon

To Be House Guest at Savin Hill Farms of the Bayard Tuckermans

Is in Good Health Again After Slight Indisposition in Montreal

It has been said that recent pictures of the Prince of Wales give him the appearance of age beyond his actual years, but it was a boyish appearing youth who stepped from a Canadian-Pacific train at Lowell this forenoon and smiled a greeting to upwards of five thousand men and women who had waited for more than half an hour for his arrival en route from Montreal to Hamilton, Mass., where for today the royal visitor is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Tuckerman at Savin Hill Farms.

Alighting from his special car a few minutes after 10 o'clock the prince and his traveling party were welcomed by Mr. Tuckerman and a few friends, walked rapidly to waiting motor cars on the opposite side of the station, stopped momentarily while a battery of cameramen trained their lenses upon him, smiled a little as the crowd cheered, raised his derby hat and disappeared from view, in the Tuckerman Lincoln brougham, which at once got under way for Hamilton.

The prince was met at the Lowell depot by Mr. Bayard Tuckerman, his host; Mr. James W. Appleton, master of hounds at Nymphe; Mr. Charles S. Bird, Jr., of Hamilton; Mr. Dudley P. Rogers of Hamilton, and Mr. Edward P. Gray, British consul-general at Boston.

The prince's principal traveling companion was his aide, Capt. Lascelles, who, in reply to a query as to the health of the prince following a slight indisposition in Montreal, said: "He is feeling perfectly fit again."

The royal party came down from the north on the Boston-bound train due at Lowell at 10:05 o'clock and occupied the special Pullman car, Balmoral. Oddly enough the prince had a 25-mile motor trip from Lowell to Hamilton.

Police Arrangements
Long before train time the crowd began to gather and it required the continuous efforts of a large squad of police to keep clear an area around the waiting automobiles. Deputy Police Superintendent Hugh Downey was in charge of police arrangements, assisted by Traffic Sergeant Edward Connors and the entire traffic squad. A special motorcycle detachment of Officers Kivlan, Hunter and Judge formed an escort and led the party out of the city by way of Middlesex, Central Church and Andover streets. Boston & Maine railroad police on duty were Sgt. Howard Siligence and Officer Thomas Graves.

While on the train the prince had a special guard of four Canadian National railroad police, wearing snappy uniforms similar to those of the Royal Northwest Mounted.

As the prince stepped down the car steps, he waved his hand in acknowledgment of the cheers which greeted him and smiled broadly as he greeted his hosts. He wore a blue and gray checked overcoat of light weight, brown suit and black derby hat. The trip to the motor cars took only a moment or two and three minutes later he was on his way out of the city.

His car had some difficulty in getting through traffic at the corner of Thorndike street but there was no hold-up. Mr. Bayard Tuckerman told the writer he did not expect the prince would extend his visit in Hamilton beyond a late hour tonight, or at the latest, early tomorrow morning, for he Continued on Page 2

Try Gulbransen pedalling. So effortless that a baby pushing down the pedals gave the idea for the Gulbransen Trade-mark.

Four Gulbransen Instruction rolls furnished with every Gulbransen. These are exclusive with Gulbransen—highly interesting and simple to master. They teach, in a few evenings' time, the basis of correct playing.

Nationally Advertised. The Gulbransen is regularly advertised in The Saturday Evening Post, The American Magazine and The Literary Digest—and additional guarantee of its high standing in the commercial world.

We advertise the four models of the Gulbransen at the four nationally established cash prices. The Community model is $450. The Suburban model is $550. The Country Seat model is $650. The White House model is $750. Generous terms may be arranged, interest being charged on deferred payments. Naturally the more expensive models are better. But the most inexpensive model made, the Community at $450, is a splendidly built, dependable instrument that we are proud to put in any home.

If you want a good, dependable instrument that you can play made by a reputable manufacturer, and sold at a fair price, come in and let us show you the GULBRANSEN.

Compare before you decide.

WE HAVE a surprise for you. We have an instrument played by music roll and pedals, on which you can register your personal touch on the keys, just as you would in hand-playing. We have an instrument on which you can accent the melody and subdue the accompaniment.

Or you can use any ordinary song roll and play the accompaniment only, without playing the melody notes at all! You can play any regular player roll in seven different keys! The instrument that will do these things is the Gulbransen Registering Piano, of which we are making a special demonstration this week.

Come in—we want to show you this latest achievement in the music world—the famous Gulbransen about which you have read in the Saturday Evening Post, The Literary Digest and the American Magazine. Don't hesitate—come in today!

This score features the "Easy to Play" Gulbransen Registering Piano because we know our Gulbransen customers are the most satisfied customers we have.

Not only is the Gulbransen mechanically satisfactory, but it's also a musical achievement and inspiration.

When you become a Gulbransen owner we will assist you in every way to get the fullest possibilities out of your Gulbransen.

Make use of our tuning and service departments.

Remember that your present piano, if you have one, ought to be tuned at least twice a year.

The Melody Indicator is a patented and exclusive Gulbransen feature.

It shows at a glance whether notes are in time or treble, so you will know where to accent them.

Play any roll. Even the finest electric reproducing player rolls may be played on your Gulbransen.

You are not restricted in your choice of rolls.

Singers, note this! In playing song rolls you can play any ordinary song roll as an accompaniment—eliminating the melody entirely. This is possible only on the Gulbransen Registering Piano.

THE RETIREMENT BUREAU

Working of Teachers' Retirement Bureau Explained at Normal School

Clayton J. Lent, secretary of the Teachers' Retirement bureau, was the speaker before the student body of the Lowell State Normal school yesterday afternoon. Mr. Lent gave a thorough and enlightening talk on the functions of the Retirement bureau, stating that it was founded on a firm financial basis for the purpose of providing conditions in the state. Although not possessing the best system in the country, Massachusetts is accredited with being the first state to establish a retirement bureau.

"Before the organization of this bureau," said the speaker, "teachers taught until they were 70 years of age, and some even taught until they were 80 years old. This bureau, which makes it compulsory for a teacher to retire at the age of 70, gives the teacher a feeling of security. School work after all is not so bad and you may wish to teach until the age when compulsory retirement is required. You will then receive your annuity fund and a pension, which will be of great benefit to you. In other words, which pays an interest of 4 1/2 per cent. The assessments are not less than 3 per cent and not more than 7 per cent of the yearly salary. The average assessment is 5 per cent. The minimum total investment per year is $35 and the maximum, $100. These payments are made monthly and are deducted from the teachers' salary by the board. The average number of annual assessments is 23 at $100 each which with interest at 4 1/2 per cent will give $2345.40 the maximum amount which can be used to purchase an annuity or pension. The interest accumulation is valuable." In illustrating this point, Mr. Lent gave several examples using various salary bases.

"Thirty-eight and one-half years is the average service of the teacher in Massachusetts. If the teacher should die before retiring age, all money with interest is refunded to her estate. The allowance to teachers, however, is in two parts: First, the annuity purchased by the member by paying the assessments to the bureau, and second, the pension which is paid by the state.

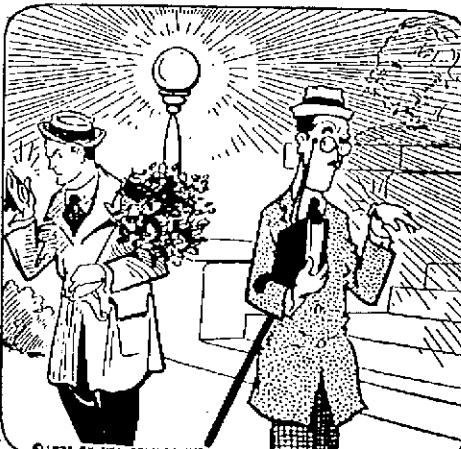

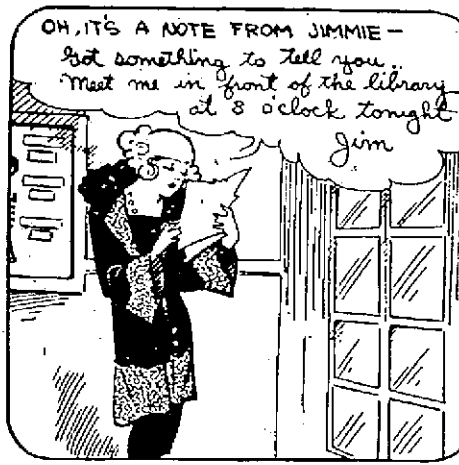

The annuity is divided into two sections: Option A, the largest life income ends with the death of the person; Option B, which provides a smaller life rate, pays a balance at the death of the person, said allowance being payable to the estate. What is left of Option A on the death of a person does not go to the estate. It remains in the fund and helps pay the annuity to the other members. This system furnishes a fixed guaranteed income. Teachers retiring after 15 years of service receive a pension from the state equal to the 30-year annuity which amount is based on the salary received prior to retirement.

Permanently disabled teachers receive a pension slightly larger than the amount purchased by the annuity. At the conclusion of his talk Mr. Lent answered questions and explained various problems which were of interest to the pupils, the six-year service term being explained at length as to amount, interest and withdrawal sum. The interest for six years, however, would amount to very little compared with a longer period of service.

SUPPER AND SOCIAL IN CHURCH VESTRY

A successful supper and social was conducted by members of the Worthen Street Baptist church in the church vestry last evening. Supper was served at 6:30 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. John Sutherland, who was assisted by Mrs. George Follen, Mrs. Leslie Pratt, Mrs. Raymond Holmeyer, and Miss May Althorn. Miss Belle Sutherland and Miss Blanche Wright had

A social hour followed the supper and at 8 o'clock a pleasing entertainment was given by James B. Donnelly.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me. Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 124 1/2 Marcellus Avenue, Manassas, N. J. Better out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.—Adv.

DENY BOSTON POST HAS WON $1000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—In a statement yesterday the Democratic National committee took up once more the Boston police strike. It declared "The Boston Post" had not earned the $1000 reward offered by Chairman Shaver to anybody who would produce evidence of material error in what he said of President Coolidge's part in that affair, at which time he was governor. It also called on "The Post" to join in a request for a statement of the facts from President Coolidge.

The Democratic committee and Colonel Stephen Bonsai charged in effect that as governor of Massachusetts at the time of the police strike Mr. Coolidge "assumed control of the situation" four days after the crisis had passed and took no part in the real suppression of rioting. In refuting this "The Post" quoted Governor Coolidge as saying: "When the mayor and police commissioner met in my office Tuesday afternoon I told the mayor that he was authorized under the law to call out the militia within the limits of the city and that I stood ready to call out other units of the state guard on his request."

The committee statement said: "Governor Coolidge never made any such statement. As evidence of that fact we cite the following assertion of Mayor Peters himself: 'You, (The Boston Post) assert not only facts which are untrue, but you assume an ignorance of the law of which, I trust, the governor is incapable. At the time of the conference the conditions did not give me the authority to call out the militia and no governor with a knowledge of the law could possibly have called upon me to do so.'"

FOR GREASE STAINS
A little cornstarch rubbed into the stains left by grease or oils will absorb and remove them. Brush the starch off carefully and apply two or three times if necessary.

Only one life was lost out of the 15,000 passengers carried by the British Air Transport Service during the last year.

IDEAL DRESS

Here is the ideal dress for the dapper, be she a school girl or a debutante in business. It is made of soft black wool with smoked pearl buttons and a wide red leather belt. The white collar and cuffs are detachable so that they may be laundered frequently.

WILL CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY
In connection with the local celebration of the 15th anniversary of the French-American Order of Foresters, Court St. Louis 17, F.F.A. will this evening hold a whist party and social in the rooms of the Centralville Social club. Delegations from the numerous courts in the city will attend this affair and indications point to an enjoyable evening. At the conclusion of the card matches a social hour will be held and refreshments served. An excellent entertainment program with popular local talent participating is also scheduled and a large gathering is expected to be present.

Clergymen, Lecturers,
Singers

Anyone who speaks or sings in public whose voice is apt to grow husky or weak from the strain, will find that one Oxidaze tablet slowly dissolved in the mouth before speaking or singing, will make a world of difference. The voice grows strong and clear and natural even during an unusual strain. Thousands of people have testified to the remarkable value of these pure essential oil tablets, which bring such quick relief in cases of hoarseness, loss of voice, soreness, or tickling in throat, bronchitis, bronchial irritation, Bronchial Asthma, Coughs, Colds, and as a preventative against Grippe, Influenza and Pneumonia.

One small inexpensive package of "Oxidaze" tablets will quickly prove the value of pure essential oil in cases of this kind; if they are always kept in the house for use in case of an emergency, they may save you many days of serious illness or discomfort. Any good druggist, including Green's Drug Store and Liggett's, can supply you.—Adv.

SOLUTION TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE
Here is the answer to yesterday's puzzle:

DENISHAWN DANCERS
HERE ON SATURDAY

That Ruth St. Denis, Ted Shawn and the Denishawn Dancers, who come to Lowell on Saturday to give afternoon and evening performances at the Memorial Auditorium, are meeting with signal success in other cities being visited on the present tour, is clearly shown in the following criticism from the Burlington (Vt.) Free Press and Times on Tuesday of the present week: "The astounding beauty of the whole performance will not soon be forgotten by the large audience that was swelled as it watched Ruth St. Denis, Ted Shawn and the Denishawn Dancers in the University gymnasium last evening. It was a night of splendor and superb artistic achievement. The engrossing program they presented ranged through a whole gamut of emotion and evidenced anew the superior artistry of their dancing. Miss St. Denis demonstrated triumphantly the extraordinary accomplishments as dance creator and executant that have won for her the title of the greatest dancer America has produced. With her talented collaborator, Ted Shawn, she has contributed immeasurably to the art of the dance."

Young people of high school and Normal school age will be particularly interested in the Denishawn, for a special program has been arranged for the matinee, and high and Normal school pupils may secure tickets at half price on application at Steiner's in Merrimack street.

NEW CURTAIN FOR KEITH'S THEATRE

A new silk curtain, designed to lend itself admirably to lighting effects, will be installed at the Lowell B. F. Keith theatre within the next few days and is expected to add greatly to the general appearance of the house. Also it will do away with the setting of side and upper pieces as it will operate on tracks and its opening will give the necessary stage area for the presentation of various acts. The curtain recently has been tried out with success at Keith houses in Cleveland and Ottawa.

BETTER PIE CRUST
The soaked undercrust, which spoils so many pies, can be avoided if you rest the pie tin on a shallow dish until the pie is cool instead of setting it directly on the table.

KOUSSEVITZKY IS BORN
ORCHESTRA LEADER

Serge Koussevitzky seems born to lead an orchestra as Pavlova was born to dance or Melba to sing, said the Boston Post this morning after the new Russian leader had led the Boston Symphony orchestra through its first concert under his direction over a week ago.

"To a rare degree," said the Post, "is he the divining interpreter sensing to the last detail the 'mood' and spiritual content of the score before him; and as unmistakably can be transmitted to his orchestra all that he discerns and feels. Time may prove that his interpretations are not infallible. But under no circumstances could he be mischievous."

"Call Mr. Koussevitzky, if you will, a 'prima donna conductor.' No doubt some will be minded so to class him. Yet it is possible to feel that the term fits him not at all. Not for the great glory of Mr. Koussevitzky does the Russian conduct, but for the greater glory of the composer."

Koussevitzky and his Boston Symphony orchestra of 105 musicians will come to the Memorial Auditorium Sunday afternoon, Nov. 2. Tickets will go on sale at Steiner's Saturday. Mail orders now. Lowell will be the first outside of Boston to greet the new conductor.

City Institution For Savings to Have Splendid New Home

After years of service at its location on the second floor of the Appleton bank building in Central street, the City Institution for Savings, popularly known and recognized as Lowell's strongest savings institution, is contemplating life in a new home, a structure particularly designed to meet its rapid growth and embodying the very latest ideas in modern bank construction and appointment.

This new building, now in the process of construction, will be located on the opposite corner of Central and Hurd streets, with main entrance in Central street. It will be of the two-story granite and brick construction and will combine architectural beauty and structural strength.

The new City Institution building is one of three new structures that will entirely change the complexion of Hurd street, where the Lowell Co-operative bank also is erecting a building and where the new district court house will be built.

Group of men who came to Lowell to greet the Prince of Wales and take him to Hamilton—Bayard Tuckerman, Charles S. Bird, Jr., Dudley P. Rogers, James W. Appleton and Edward F. Gray, British consul-general at Boston.

To Spend Day at Hamilton

Continued

ails for England from New York on Saturday.

Entertainment Program

The entertainment program in Wales' honor at Hamilton will be just as informal as it is possible to make it. This is in compliance with the expressed wish of the prince. At about 1.30 o'clock this afternoon, luncheon will be served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Appleton, Appleton Farms, Ipswich. A meet, with drag hunt, will take up the greater portion of the afternoon. At 4.30 o'clock the Tuckermans will give a tea for a few friends in the prince's honor and tonight the prince will be the guest at an elaborate dinner-dance at Gravelly Brook Farm, the Topsfield home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Lawrence. That will end the entertainment program and it is expected the prince will leave late tonight for New York.

Presented Silk Union Jack

Many persons pressed close to the Tuckerman car in an effort to say a word to the prince as he was leaving the Lowell depot, but time evidently was at a premium and most of the admiration was expressed from a distance. One Lowell man, James Birtwell, for years a bandsman in the British army, was fortunate enough to press his hand, while Daniel McAdam of Sydney, Cape Breton, a visitor in Lowell, presented the prince a tiny silk Union Jack.

When the motor party arrived at Shawshoan, they saw a Union Jack flying from the flag staff on the common, an act of courtesy directed by William M. Woods, president of the American Woolen Co.

MONTREAL, Oct. 23.—The Prince of Wales left this city on a special train at midnight last night, and crossed the international border near St. Armand at 1.15, en route to Lowell, Mass.

Informally marked his royal highness' departure. As his train was scheduled to leave Bonaventure station at an hour when regular train movements had ceased, the station itself was virtually bare of spectators. A few hundred persons braved the cold outside to witness the departure.

As he walked briskly through the waiting room to the train, the prince was cheered lustily by the crowd outside. When the train got under way he was standing on the rear platform waving his hand in recognition of the cheers.

Arrives at Hamilton

HAMILTON, Mass., Oct. 23.—The Prince of Wales arrived here today for a brief visit in the hunting country of the Moose Hunt club, having been driven over New England roads in an automobile from Lowell, where he left his special train from Montreal. He was feeling better than when he left the Canadian city, but still showed some of the effects of the cold which he contracted there.

After a rest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., his hosts, at Savin Hill Farm, it was arranged that the prince should go by automobile to Appleton Farms, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Appleton, in Ipswich, for luncheon. The remainder of his visit was to be taken up with a drag hunt over a varied and sporty course; tea at the Tuckerman home and a dinner and dance at Gravelly Brook Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Lawrence in Topsfield, to which about 300 guests had been invited.

The American Legion post at Hamilton was reported to have invited the prince, through Mr. Tuckerman, to call at its headquarters between tea and dinner and accept appointment as its honorary commander.

SHENANDOAH PASSES OVER EL PASO

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 23.—Fighting a strong head wind, the Shenandoah passed over El Paso today at 8 o'clock, mountain time, en route to its home station at Lakehurst, N. J. The big ship was moving about 20 miles an hour, according to estimates of air officers from Fort Bliss, and apparently had all motors going in an effort to gain speed.

Passes Fort Hancock

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 23.—The Shenandoah passed over Fort Hancock, Texas, 45 miles east of El Paso, at 9.45 o'clock, mountain time.

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 23.—The dirigible Shenandoah was sighted here at 7.30 a. m. mountain time.

PORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 23.—Hull plant and navy officials here do not expect the Shenandoah to arrive over Fort Worth and the mooring mast before 7 o'clock tonight. Originally plans were made to receive the dirigible at 4 o'clock.

EMBARGO ON GRAIN

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 23.—An embargo stopping every grain car from moving into Minneapolis or Duluth will have been enacted within ten days unless country shippers co-operate by holding back their grain shipments, said a bulletin issued today by the northwest regional advisory board.

ENDS LIFE IN HAVERHILL

HAVERHILL, Mass., Oct. 23.—A man who registered as J. Dubus last night at the lodging-house conducted by Mrs. Margaret Davis at 35 Orchard street, sent a bullet from a 32-calibre pistol into his head some time during the night and died at the Gale hospital this morning.

The modern Colonial-type residence erected at 190 Butman road two years ago for Frank Burke of the Barber Mfg. company at a cost of approximately $18,000, was sold today through the office of T. H. Elliott, real estate dealer to Mary F. and Agnes Dillon, of the Dillon Dye Works.

The property is situated at the junction of Butman road, Holyrood avenue and Hovey street, and is one of the most beautiful in that section of the city. The house has seven rooms, with two baths, and the transfer includes a garage and 20,462 square feet of land.

The sale of this residence was made necessary by the recent transfer of Mr. Burke to North Carolina, where he has charge of a new branch of the Barber Mfg. Co. The grantees, it is reported, purchased for personal occupancy.

The condition of James Harrington of 74 Maple street, who was injured in an automobile accident in Gallagher square last Friday, is reported at the Corporation hospital today as still serious.

"S. O. S." MESSAGES PART OF FRENCH PLAY

PARIS, Oct. 23.—The "S.O.S." messages picked up Tuesday night by Parisian radio fans now prove to have been part of a play which was being broadcast in rehearsal from the French wireless studio.

The name of the ship was given in the play as the "Vila de St. Martin," and the position where she was supposed to be sinking was purposely placed in the middle of the Sahara desert to prevent the distress calls from being taken seriously. Nevertheless, quite a number of radio fans got excited and began telephoning, asking that something be done to help the ship.

EX-GOV. BUCHTEL OF COLORADO DEAD

DENVER, Oct. 23.—Dr. Henry Augustus Buchtel, 70, former governor of Colorado and chancellor-emeritus of the University of Denver, died at his home here late last night.

Death followed a cerebral hemorrhage, coupled with Bright's disease.

Dr. Buchtel was elected governor of Colorado in 1904 and served a two-year term.

He became chancellor of the University of Denver in 1931, serving in that capacity even through his term as governor until 1930, when ill health caused his retirement.

He was ordained a minister in the Methodist Episcopal church in 1875, following his graduation from DePaul university.

ROWDIES BREAK UP MEETINGS

London Papers Deplore Tendency Toward Rowdism in Election Campaign

Conservative and Liberal Meetings Broken Up—Labor Party Blamed

LONDON, Oct. 23. (By the Associated Press.)—The tendency toward rowdism in the present election campaign, with the consequent breaking up of conservative and liberal meetings, is deplored by the London newspapers, which today call upon the leaders of the labor party to use their influence to stop it.

Labor headquarters, however, disavows responsibility and the agent of the party at Greenwich, which has been one of the centers of disturbance, has issued an appeal for the party followers to not in a sportsmanlike manner and give their adversaries a fair hearing.

The charge is made in some quarters that the disturbances are due to gangs of paid hoodlums, often youths not possessing the franchise, but the instigators are unknown.

Great Britain has a law defining freedom of speech and public meeting, but it seems unpopular and speakers who have invoked it in the past have found it only served to exhibit the situation. The chairman of a conservative meeting at Lambeth last night, however, read the law, with a pacifying effect on the audience.

The rowdism is in nowise universal.

13 HOURS WORK FOR COL. ROOSEVELT TODAY

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Theodore Roosevelt, republican nominee for governor, set out today to put in about thirteen hours of work, though he retired late last night after making two speeches in the evening, preceded by eleven during the earlier part of the day.

Referring to Governor Smith's explanation that a stenographer's error had made the democratic department consolidation bill as providing for the abolition of the board of regents and the appointment of the commissioner of education by the governor, Colonel Roosevelt asserted that the measure was twice amended after its introduction without this defect being removed. He reiterated his statement that the proposal was designed solely to "build up the Tammany machine at the expense of the schools."

FOR THE BENEFIT OF NEEDY CHILDREN

Tomorrow evening at the Girls' City club a dance and entertainment will be held by the Children's Aid society, the proceeds of which will be donated to the fund to clothe needy children during the coming winter. The efforts of this organization in behalf of the poor children of the city have provided many with proper clothing during the colder months of the year, and it is hoped that tomorrow's evening affair will prove most successful. In addition to the program three master prizes will be awarded the holders of lucky tickets. Mrs. John de la Parra, president of the society, is in charge of the affair and is assisted by an able committee.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION SCHOOL

The 1924 term of the School of Religious Education opened at the Y. M. C. A. last night with an enrollment of 137 students. Twenty-two churches and every Protestant denomination in Lowell is represented in the school and three professors have been obtained from Boston university to handle the classes. There were a large number of prospective students at last night's meeting and efforts will be made to enroll them during the week.

Country Too Large to Be Standardized in Washington

the bureau of internal revenue, a record of income and financial status of every citizen, rich and poor alike. "The mere fact that such information is in the files places the federal government in a position of trust which involves unusual possibilities for good or harm. It is not difficult to understand its cash value to an unscrupulous competitor or a enemy. Already there is agitation that this information shall be made public, although when it was obtained there was a general understanding that it would be confidential.

There are many suggestions now being actively advanced for placing further authority in the hands of the federal government, all involving additional expense, some a federal subsidy. It is my sincere belief that we are moving too fast. This country is too large to be standardized from Washington, and there is danger in every move toward centralizing power there."

The speaker said he could not help mentioning the program of so-called progressives, in discussing government bureaus. To carry out such a program would mean the creation in Washington of bureaus compared to which the bureau of internal revenue would look like a pigmy. The power of a small coterie of men in control of the employment list would be almost without limit.

A Follette announces that the one paramount issue of the 1924 campaign is to break the power of the private monopoly system over the political and economic life of the American people. Whatever may be our aim, a national monopoly cannot be their cure.

An analysis of the budgets of European nations for the latest dates for which figures are available, made for Lloyds Bank, Ltd., of London, show that "the same unhappy features" of military expenditures that closely approach for peaceful purposes, persist, although somewhat mitigated. Henry Bell, general manager of that institution, said in another paper prepared for delivery. Discussing the Dawes plan, he said "Germany is to pay great sums of money, now and in the indefinite future, for you will recall that the total is still nominally about $33,000,000,000. Let us be frank and recognize that that is a sum beyond her capacity to pay. It must one day be adjusted and settled at some possible lower figure."

IN YOUR OFFICE
Taking mid-day rests and simple exercises was a thing that stumped Mr. Mann and his most other people.
But a few minutes should be stolen from every workday for relaxation or relaxing exercises.
Thus, though a man be sitting at his office desk or office table, he still can take a few minutes off and perform his relaxing stunts right there and then.
Rise from your office chair and take a leisurely pose. Droop limply, relaxing at the waist, then at the knees, then dropping the head. Drop limply as possible to the floor—better get a rug for this one.
Lie quietly for a few seconds and then rise to your feet, remaining as limp as possible. Swing arms back and forth at the side, keeping them loose. Try this half a dozen times.
People who do a great deal of walking or standing might try sitting down or lying down for several minutes.

LOWELL MEN SENTENCED

John Tsaffaras Gets From Three to Five Years on Arson Charge

Peter and James Sokorellis Receive Sentences of Eighteen Months Each

Strathouda Sokorellis Fined $100 Also in Connection With Local Fire

In superior criminal court at East Cambridge yesterday, John Tsaffaras was sentenced to from three to five years in state prison, Peter and James Sokorellis were each given sentences of 18 months in the house of correction, and Strathouda Sokorellis was fined $100, on indictments relating to the burning of a building at 179 Broadway, this city, on July 23.

The defendants were released on bail when sentences were stayed, the cases going to the supreme court on exceptions.

Judge Lawton denied the motions of Edward J. Tierney, counsel for defendants, for new trials.

Assistant District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell delivered a brilliant address in moving for sentences, saying in part:

"These cases are particularly difficult for the court to deal with. On the one hand is the fact that the defendants, with the exception of Tsaffaras, have no criminal records. One of the defendants is a widow with three small children who will be left motherless, as well as fatherless, if she is imprisoned. Peter Sokorellis has a wife and no children. I assume the wife is young enough to take care of herself if he is imprisoned. James Sokorellis has a wife and two children. On the other hand lies the fact that the people of Lowell are entitled to protection against incendiary fire. During the past one and one-half years there have been in Lowell 12

What You Should Know about a baby's care

Illness is usually due to constipation. Quickly give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

THE young mother should watch which foods the baby relishes most, which foods and their quantity cause distress, and act accordingly.

The good health of a baby is largely a matter of intelligent attention to diet. Nevertheless, in spite of your efforts you will sometimes notice belching, flatulence, wind and symptoms of colicky pain.

Give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and thereafter vary the offending food. Syrup Pepsin is a laxative admirably suited to infants and children, as it is mild and wholly free from opiates and narcotics.

If you delay in giving it you will soon find the baby suffering from constipation, and that may lead to more serious illness. Half a teaspoonful promptly given will avoid trouble.

Many thousands of mothers have never given their babies any other medicine but Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and they have successfully raised large and sturdy families. The formula is not a secret, being a combination of Egyptian senna with pepsin, and agreeable aromatics. The ingredients are stated on the package. Mrs. Dewey Walker, Eida, N. M., and Mrs. B. H. Higginbotham, Otter Creek, Fla., are among the many who are firm believers that Syrup Pepsin has kept their families and themselves in good health.

No family with young children can afford to be without such a household medicine. It is effective, beneficial and safe regardless of your age and has been considered so for over thirty years. In consequence it is today the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, over 10 million bottles being sold annually.

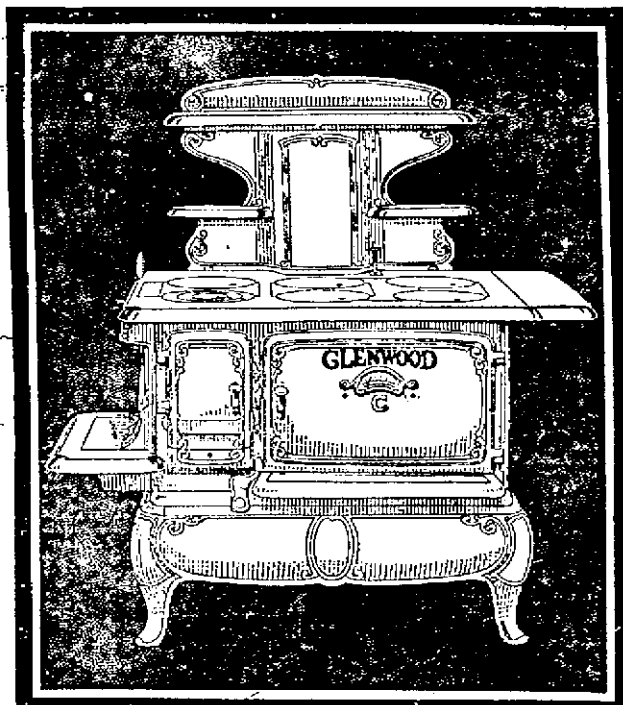

You will find that Syrup Pepsin quickly brings relief in the severest chronic constipation, in biliousness, lack of appetite, sleeplessness, headache, cankers, bad breath, and to stop a cold or fever.

Free Sample Bottle Coupon

There are people who very rightly prefer to try a thing before they buy it. Let them clip this coupon, print their name and address on it, and send it to the Syrup Pepsin Co., 518 Washington Street, Boston, U.S.A., and a free sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will be sent them postpaid by mail. Do not enclose postage. It is free.

"There Is So Much More Room In This Glenwood Oven"

WHEN baking day comes round you'll always appreciate the big roomy oven of a Glenwood range. Here's the Model "C," for instance. Its oven is wide and deep with plenty of space to adjust the sliding rack at different heights. The corners are four-square, allowing you the full width of the oven bottom for anything that needs to be baked very slowly and thoroughly.

The indicator on the door tells you just how hot to keep your fire for cakes, pies, roasts and biscuits. May we show you this range, some day soon?

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

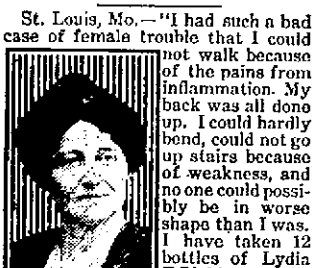

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly. You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

COULD NOT WALK BECAUSE OF PAIN

Bad Case of Woman's Illness Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I had such a bad case of female trouble that I could not walk because of the pains from inflammation. My back was all done up. I could hardly bend, could not go up stairs because of weakness, and no one could possibly be in worse shape than I was. I have taken 12 bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am a strong woman now and can work down any of my neighbors. They wonder how I can do so much work. I dare say that I have recommended your medicine to a thousand women. A little book was thrown at my door, and that is how I first learned of it."—Mrs. D. M. DEACAMP, 1104 Morrison Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri.

Let us like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

of people, women and children, sleeping in their beds at night have been subjected to the peril of a horrible death.

"I believe that the court in imposing sentence in this case should take the view that adequate punishment for persons found guilty is the best deterrent for others likely to commit a similar offense. This theory of punishment is particularly sound in this type of case, where the criminals deliberately sit down, figure out the plan, take the risks and the profits and proceed to put their plans into execution."

"Tsaffaras is an old offender. He is now in the house of correction under sentence for an exactly similar offense; has also been found guilty by a jury of attempting to bribe an agent of the department of motor vehicles, and is apparently a confirmed criminal. I recommend that he be sent to state's prison for a term which your honor thinks commensurate with the offense, such sentence to take effect from and after the sentence which he is now serving in the house of correction."

"The other male defendants in these cases should be such that it may act as a deterrent to others—should be dealt with, with corresponding severity."

For Better Toast—

TOASTING is a severe test of any bread. It takes real bread—bread like Betsy Ross—to make good toast. Betsy Ross toasts quickly and evenly, becoming delightfully crisp on the outside, and remaining fresh in the center. That's the way good toast always should be.

Betsy Ross is rich in the vital food elements we all require for bodily health. Much of its nourishment is taken from the generous portion of milk used in its making. This, and other choice ingredients, make Betsy Ross a loaf of exceptional food value.

Your mother's bread tasted just like Old Home. We make this loaf just as she used to make bread, and it actually has that same delicious flavor. It's full of the same old-fashioned goodness, too. Why not try a loaf today?

the generous encouragement and support offered me for the past several months by hundreds of friends and supporters throughout the city to become a candidate for mayor. I am compelled after a thorough consideration of the matter and for personal reasons alone to set aside my ambitions to again seek the office of mayor. This decision has not been arrived at without much regret. The loyalty and good will of my friends are something worth while and which I prize greatly. I would like to make the fight for their sake, if for nothing else, but I am satisfied they will recognize that one must consider a situation like this from all angles, and my business now is of such a nature as to make it imperative that I give my undivided time and attention to its proper development.

The duties of the mayor's office are exacting and require practically all of one's time if they are to be performed acceptably. The citizens expect such kind of service and are entitled to it. It is this feature alone, of being unable to give the necessary time and attention to the details of the office which causes me, with no small degree of reluctance, to reach this decision.

Boston Girl Disappears After Leaving Note Indicating Intention to End Life

BOSTON, Oct. 23.—The Boston police were searching today for a young woman giving the name of Edith Berns of New York, who disappeared yesterday from a Boston hotel leaving a note indicating an intention to commit suicide. A letter addressed to the police was found in her room. It said that the writer had been disappointed in the man she loved and requested that reports of the incident be withheld from Boston and New York newspapers.

The girl's disappearance became known when a telegram addressed to her reached the hotel. It was signed with a man's given name, and said that the writer had "sacrificed all" and could do no more.

MEETING OF CLUB CITOYENS AMERICAIN

At a meeting of Club Citoyens Americain, held last evening, various committees reported and the secretary and treasurer submitted their reports. The report of the financial secretary showed the club in a good financial condition. The committee in charge of the annual dinner held last Friday evening reported that the affair was most successful. Chairman Lagasse of the committee announced that the annual Halloween costume and dancing party would be held Oct. 31 in the club hall. A special feature is being arranged on the program and the usual good time will be had by those attending.

At the business session presided over by President Raoul Dionne it was voted to hold a card and billiard tournament in the near future. Messrs. Hargis, Quinn and Poucher were appointed to act on this committee.

Among the speakers of the evening were Messrs. Quier Allard, Arthur Lavoye, J. Piquin and N. Manseau, the latter a member of the committee on naturalization. It was announced that next week's meeting will be of major importance.

COLONIAL HALL GROWING POPULAR

The Stratfords are holding their Friday evening parties in Colonial hall in Palmer street this season. For the past two years they have held all their dances at the Highland club, but as the Stratford restaurant represents practically every section of the city, a more centrally located hall was desirable for the convenience of all concerned.

The next Stratford party will be held tomorrow night in Colonial hall with a band and orchestra furnishing the music. The usual Stratford following is expected to be present to enjoy the evening's festivities.

DO YOU HUMOR YOUR STOMACH?

Read the Statement of a Vermont Woman Who Really Corrected Her Trouble

There are plenty of remedies by which you can relieve for the time heartburn, pain and gas on the stomach and can soothe nervous sensations and can induce artificial sleep. You can humor your stomach by giving it predigested food. But when you take your next meal all your trouble begins afresh.

There is only one sensible thing to do. Strengthen the stomach and do away with the necessity for drugs and artificial foods. The stomach, once in proper condition, will do its own work better than any process devised by man can do it.

Mrs. Nettie Alenworth, of No. 81 Elm street, Montpelier, Vt., in describing her experience says: "I became run down through overwork and suffered a complete nervous breakdown. My stomach was distressed after meals and I was in misery from flatulency and gas. I lost sleep, sleepless, at night and was steadily losing strength and weight."

"A friend who had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills following an attack of pneumonia, recommended the treatment to me and I decided to give the remedy a trial. I took seven boxes in all and was completely restored to health. My nervousness disappeared and I now sleep well and eat without distress. I can't speak too highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for I owe my present health to them. Two of my friends later took the treatment on my enthusiastic recommendation and I am glad to say that both of them improved."

The tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has a strong principle as its basis and its success in many similar cases is its best endorsement. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood and strike at the root of all diseases caused by bad blood. They contain no harmful stimulants or opiates, are perfectly safe and create no drug habit. Every dyspeptic should read, "What to Eat and How to Eat." Write the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a copy. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.—Adv.

A well balanced program of vocal selections together with several violin selections by Valdo E. Murphy accompanied by M. Eugene Guilbault, pianist, kept the large gathering to the highest pitch of appreciation.

Numbers well within the reach of the singers were capably given. Miss Alma Souland, who was the accompanist for the entire program, greatly enhanced the presentation by her artful playing which had always a prominent part in the execution of the various vocal movements.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Governor Alfred E. Smith has completed his tour of the western and central counties and today returns to the capital district, where he will make two addresses before going to New York to campaign Westchester county and the greater city. He speaks tonight at Troy and tomorrow at Albany, leaving for the metropolis probably on Sunday afternoon.

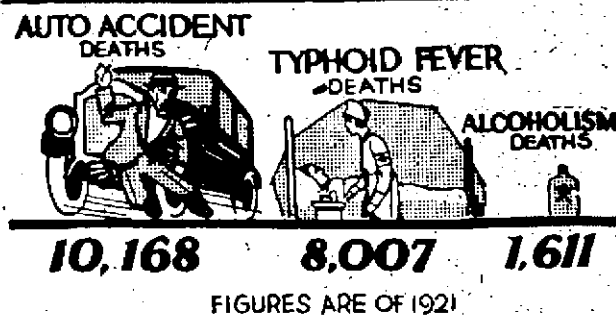

Governor Smith's appearance on a Utica platform 24 hours after his republican opponent, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, had vacated it, called out a crowd so large that it was necessary to close the doors of the Majestic theatre nearly an hour before he spoke and to spread his speech by means of amplifiers to throngs on the street outside the building. In the lobby of the Hotel Utica and in the area-way behind the theatre.

PARKER LECTURES TO BEGIN ON SUNDAY

The Sunday afternoon series of Moses Greeley Parker lectures is to begin next Sunday afternoon at the Memorial Auditorium with a lecture by Hon. Frederick A. Wallis and vocal solos by Miss Pico, the well-known baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Everyone who heard Mr. Wallis at the recent joint meeting of the chamber of commerce with the Rotary club and the Lions club will be eager to hear him again upon the topic, "Americanizing the Immigrant," a subject which he did not cover when he before. Probably no man in America is better qualified to discuss our relations to the newcomers to this country than Mr. Wallis. For many years he was United States commissioner of immigration at Ellis Island. At present he is commissioner of correction for the city of New York and taken an active part in all important civic enterprises.

Mr. Pico has long been a favorite of Lowell audiences and his coming is being looked forward to with great interest by a host of friends who knew him when he lived in Lowell some years ago.

As usual the doors will be open to ticket holders from 2:15 to 2:45, after which time the public will be admitted up to the capacity of the Auditorium.

SMALL, FIVE-ROOM HOUSE WITH ALL GOOD POINTS OF A LARGER HOME

Once in a while one finds a small house design that has all the good points of a much larger place. The house shown is one of these. It is a Colonial type, in story-and-a-half effect.

A small lot is sufficient, since the size of the house is only 20 by 28 feet. Each of its five rooms is good sized, and has light and ventilation from two directions. One bedroom is unusually large—19 feet 2 inches by 10 feet 6 inches.

A Colonial exterior is always a good selection, because it will always appeal to people of good taste. It can also be carried out in easily available materials, which can be had in the best standard grades at reasonable cost.

The porch lets out from the house so as to take advantage of every breeze. The small entrance hall is unusually well thought out, since it furnishes access to living room, dining room and second floor, and yet takes a very small space. The boxed stair is an economical feature, as is also the single chimney which serves the whole house.

There are good wall spaces in the living room for the arrangement of furnishings. It is so arranged also that it is just a step to the kitchen and to the bathroom.

In the dining room, one's eyes are attracted at once by the pair of simple and useful corner china closets. The

COLLEGE CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

At the annual meeting of the College Club, held last evening in the main ballroom of Hotel Marlborough, interesting talks were given by members who went abroad this summer, a dinner was enjoyed and a business session held, there being over 100 members present.

The hall was prettily decorated with autumn leaves and marigolds, the color scheme being yellow and black, with streamers of yellow and black fringed in a centerpiece and along the walls.

A musical program was also given by Miss J. Sparling and Miss Ruth C. Jones. Miss Emma L. Bradley who traveled to England and France during the summer gave an interesting talk on her trip and showed pictures of the various places of note visited among which were Devon, Salisbury, Winchester and Eton colleges, the unknown soldier's grave, Arche de Triomphe and scenes from battlefields regions.

Miss Ruth Sawyer and Miss Edith C. Franklin who visited Alaska gave an illustrated talk on their adventures showing slides of the Canadian Rockies and Alaska's centers, as well as views of the narrow mountain passes, glaciers and other attractive pictures.

At the business session, presided over by Mrs. E. L. Knowlton, the secretary's and treasurer's reports were read as well as committee reports. It was announced that "Timothy's Quest," a screen production would be shown at Keith's theatre Saturday morning, Nov. 8 from 8:15 to 11:10. The annual play will be given sometime in December.

Those in charge of the dinner last evening were Mrs. Lewis E. MacBryne, Mrs. William A. Liddell, Miss Margaret V. Spear and Miss Helen M. Whitcomb.

WOMAN TALKS ON PROPOSED CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

Mrs. Scanlon Addressing League of Catholic Women Here Declares Proposed Amendment is Entering Wedge Into Educational Fields Under a Labor Guise

"The proposed child labor amendment is an entering wedge into educational fields under a labor guise," stated Mrs. Frank Scanlon, state president of the Margaret Brent league and a prominent member of the Boston League of Catholic Women, in a talk on the child labor bill given in Liberty hall last evening, in connection with a meeting of the civics department of the local League of Catholic Women, Miss Eva Blanchard, chairman.

In urging her auditors to vote no on Referendum No. 7 on November 4, Mrs. Scanlon said in part as follows: "Outside the ballot your greatest weapon is public opinion. It has been the safeguard of America for many years, as it meant spreading of authority. Today, unfortunately, the principle is to gather up this authority of the states into one central power in Washington.

"The child labor bill has nothing to do with education."

Princeton-Notre Dame Game Attracts Attention—Local Elevens Are Active

GRIDIRON BATTLE BETWEEN TIGERS AND HOOSIERS TO BE THRILLER

jinx Pursues Notre Dame Eleven

Gridiron Gossip

Capt. Walsh, Bulwark of Notre Dame Line at Center, Will Be Out of Game—May Produce Crack Through Which Tigers May Get Jump

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (By the Associated Press.)—The word of disavowal which wavers with uncertainty over the gridiron spread, hunting hidden dynamite, points this week to Princeton.

Sporting fans are preparing to follow a game from "Princeton" to the meeting between the Tigers and Knute Rockne's Notre Dame flares may be well worth seeing.

On the surface, the Hoosiers, victors last fall by a score of 25 to 2 and having played rougher than the Army without apparent effort this season, will be easy winners over a Tiger team that was outplayed by Lehigh and escaped defeat by Navy for the first time in a long time.

But football games between Princeton and Notre Dame are subject to emotional influences and are often decided by physical strength. The Princeton and Notre Dame elevens have always been in contention on which enthusiasm and spirit played.

Notre Dame, with physical odds in its favor, has no great urge to its spiritual quality. Princeton has an ever wave of information that comes from the Tiger camp indicates that Princeton is doing it.

If Notre Dame enters the contest emotionally cold against a group of players who are the absence of Capt. Adam Walsh at center, acknowledged bulwark of the line, may produce a crack through which a Princeton team, averaging 13 pounds more to the man than the Hoosiers, might rush to an early lead.

Such an event occurs the chances of gridiron thrills would be certain of compensation; for Knute Rockne would then be compelled to call into play the full force of his aerial game which has never been revealed to an eastern crowd, an amazing gridiron spectacle which lived the spirit of an aroused Notre Dame team.

The Tigers took part in a scintillating game with Harvard of hard work yesterday by teams preparing for the contest of the week end. The coaches apparently had a common lunch about 10 o'clock and then went to the field to see their stars from being forced out of the battles.

Coach Rogers of West Virginia has abandoned the usual precaution of having his team on the site of the game a day ahead and will gamble with confidence by delaying his trip to the mountains until the night before the game at the Polo grounds with Center.

An exodus of undergraduates will also be made from Syracuse to State college, Pa., for the Orange game with the Siltary Lion and from Washington, Pa., and Eastern, Pa., to the W. & J. battle with Lafayette at the Yankee stadium.

BOXING BOUTS TONIGHT

Al Diamond and Wee Willie Woods Meet in Moody Club Main Event

Appearing here for the first time in three years, Al Diamond, former local boy who has made a name for himself pugilistic circles, hopes to convince his old pals and admirers of his class here he faces Wee Willie Woods of Scotland in the main event of the Moody club card in the Crescent rink tonight. Diamond is the possessor of the sneakest left hook of any fighter in the boxing ring. Perfectly who stopped Frankie Hebert in Worcester. Charlie (Phil) Rosenberg, Tiny Trinkle, Billy Bell, now a stablemate of Diamond, and other fighters, and Victor Ritchie, all sport in ears presented them by Diamond. It seems to all who know the boy that he has a penchant for the ears. Opponent, Diamond has engaged Perfectly three times, losing one decision and holding that clever boy even on the other occasions. It was in the third Perfectly bout that Diamond was worsted when the decision of the judges was handed up. At actually won that bout. It was in the fourth bout that he received his decoration of combat, and it appeared to all close enough to view the proceedings that Lew was willing to play in the fourth bout. The man he was suffering from his puffing ear.

While it is a well known fact that the left hand of a boxer is a good right hand puncher and is always tearing in, he will be in a quandary to follow Diamond's original style of fighting. The left hand of a boxer, it ought to be a whole of a battle.

In the semi-finals, Pat Hange, the Haverhill scoundrel, and Brad Knowles, the Bradford scoundrel, will meet. They are deadly rivals, who can hit and take it. This number looks like a hummer.

EAST BOSTON TEAM TO PLAY BUTLERS HERE

With 36 points already to their credit and without a first down chalked against them, the Sacred Hearts of East Boston will come to Lowell to play the Butlers on the old Pair grounds Sunday. The team, so far this season includes wins over the following outfits: Lincoln A.C. of Somerville, 15-0; Burrill A.C. of Cambridge, 15-0; Essex of Cambridge, 45-0; The East Boston team is captained by McLaughlin, former backfield star of Amherst and one of the best players in the country. The man the Butlers will have to watch, however, is Deaton, former fullback of Fordham university and one of the best backs returned out by the Jesuit college. In addition to Capt. McLaughlin and Deaton, the squad includes Dorgan, who played halfback for the Harvard team last year; Pettine of English high; Ober, Hutchinson and the two Cunningham, former East Boston high school stars; Carter and Sullivan of Boston High; Thornton and Palmer, former grid warriors of the Boston grade school; Flynn, Boston College night; Sacco, St. John's of Lowell; and Everett, who appeared against the Butlers at Alumni field two years ago, will have another chance to see just what he can do in action Sunday. The East Boston team is a hard fighting, never-say-die outfit, who plays football because it loves the game.

The Butlers will have "skull practice" at the Butler school tonight at 7 o'clock. The chances are Red O'Hare will have to use all his wits to keep the team from the East Boston boys. So far this year the Butlers have had nothing but off-lack plays with a few passes sprinkled in for variety. They have to work on everything they have. Armstrong will probably get into action Sunday for the first time this season. Armstrong is a good player and has been playing the pigskin game hereabouts. With Red Mullin, Whitey and Armstrong covering tackle positions, Coach O'Hare feels confident that he has a line that can compare favorably with any in the semi-pro ranks.

As usual, competent officials will handle the game and adequate police protection will be provided for the largest crowd of the season.

Fishermen in Kent and Essex, Eng., have complained of damage to nets through picking up old machine guns dumped in the sea.

CITY MINOR LEAGUE

Maries Win Honors By Rolling 1551—McQuade Star of the Night

It was a big night in the City Minor league games last night with many high scores put up by the members of the eight competing teams. Marie's quintet carried off the honors for the night with a three string total of 1551. Capt. McQuade set a good example for his teammates, by rolling a high single of 137, and showing the way in totals with a mark of 340. But one man on the team failed to land in the 300 class. By their classy rolling Marie's took the entire four points from the Dixon Shoe Fix team. The Bellevues, managed by Tom Fleming, who led the baseball team of the same name to the city championship last season, also had a big night, rolling 1537. They won three points from Ricard's. D. Gray was the "leading man" for the Bellevues, with 321. A. Durgin, anchor man for Ricard's, set up 322 as his contribution to the game. The MacIntoshes took three points from the Trailers. Tom Bridgford of the latter team had a high single of 126 and a triple total of 321. O'Brien carried off the honors for his team with 308. The scores:

BY RILEY EVANS

Hardly a football season passes without some wonder team making its appearance only to fade out the following year.

Notre Dame is the perennial wonder team of the gridiron. Year after year under the direction of Knute Rockne, its famous coach, Notre Dame turns out real champions.

In many ways Knute Rockne is the most unusual character in football. He looks for no soft spots, arranges no hand-picked schedule, takes them as they come, the toughest the better.

This year Notre Dame plays an eight-game schedule. There isn't a single step in the entire list.

Five Hard Games

On five successive Saturdays Notre Dame plays such worthy opponents as the Army, Princeton, Georgia Tech, Wisconsin and Nebraska.

Notre Dame takes them on from all sections of the country. The Army, Georgia Tech, Princeton, Georgia Tech, Wisconsin and Nebraska.

Each year, after going through the season undefeated, Nebraska, in the final game of the year, spoiled Notre Dame's record. The margin in each case being one touchdown.

Develops Fast Rocks

This year, Rockne in an attempt to wipe out those two defeats, has given Nebraska a different spot in the schedule. It is his intention to point his eleven for that game.

While Rockne always has a good line, his strongest forte is the developing of backfield stars. Regarding the men lost by graduation, Rockne year after year bobs up with a sensational backfield.

Always willing to take a chance, Rockne gambles with the forward pass more than any other coach in the country. His last backs and ends enable him to do it.

His backfield of this year is a veteran combination, most of them starting last season, making it seem Notre Dame will be harder than ever to stop.

Princeton and Carnegie Tech are representative of the east. Georgia Tech always has one of the best elevens in the south. Wisconsin, a leader in the "Big Ten," and Nebraska are the best of the western foes.

A clean sweep of that strong list of contenders would make Rockne's "fighting Irish" loom up as one of the best bets in the country.

Max Trails Rockne

In the last three years Rockne has turned out teams that have been the sensation of the football world. Yet there always has been a flux on Notre Dame's trail that has dimmed some of the real glory due Rockne and his pupils.

In 1921 Iowa, the "Big Ten" champs of that year, upset Rockne's calculations by a 10 to 7 victory over Notre Dame. Iowa had a great team, also was favored with breaks of the game.

In the last two years Nebraska has been the thorn in Notre Dame's side.

"BABE" RUTH INJURED

Became Excited While Watching Salmon and Thrust Hand Through Glass Door

YREKA, Cal., Oct. 23.—"Babe" Ruth, home run king, became so excited here yesterday while watching salmon leap in the Klamath river that he thrust his hand through the glass door of his automobile. He cut his hand slightly and a physician treated it here. It is expected that he will be able to play ball in San Francisco Saturday.

Following Bout With Greek in Big Tourney

Londos Threw Poggi With Flying Headlock—Latter Carried Off Unconscious

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—The condition of Nazzenzo Poggi, Italian wrestler injured last night in a match with Jim Londos, representing Greece in the International heavy weight wrestling tournament, was still serious today. Physicians said that a vertebra in his neck has been dislocated and that an operation may be necessary. He is expected to recover.

The Butlers Second are a bunch of substitutes, as the name "Seconds" might imply. In Sunday's game the Butlers Second defeated the Tigers by two touchdowns.

In that Tiger game, the radical element was happily lacking, and the fans were satisfied. Football is football, not a boxing game.

The Butlers Second are a bunch of substitutes, as the name "Seconds" might imply. In Sunday's game the Butlers Second defeated the Tigers by two touchdowns.

When the Aere Athletes travel to Peabody Saturday to play the St. Joseph's outfit of that city, a large following of local rosters will go with them. Trucks will leave Cross and Fletcher streets at 1 p.m.

The Wanderers have recuperated from their defeat by the St. Peter's Cadets last Sunday and will journey to Nashua next Sunday to play the Eagle A.C. of that city.

All members of the Ponies are requested to report for practice on the First street oval this evening. Bill Crossland will be in charge. New players in preparation for the Butlers Second will be tried out.

Dartmouth is being figured a 10 to 7 favorite over Harvard in the St. Joseph's game. Judging from the Yale Green's performance against the Yale Bulldogs last week, the odds are none too high. Harvard has a smart club, however. She came back strong to defeat Holy Cross last week. Dartmouth will have to stop. Hundreds of Lowell people will be among those present.

LOWELL TEXTILE TO PLAY IN WORCESTER

Lowell Textile's team goes to Worcester Saturday to face its traditional rival, Worcester Tech. This game is looked upon by Lowell as the "obstacle" game of the season. Both teams entered their best plays to land the verdict, and a hot contest always results.

Indications point to a Lowell win this year more than ever before. In the past two weeks, at the latter's previous years, Worcester Tech has the edge on the locals, but with a bolstered lineup, which showed to excellent effect against Rhode Island state last week, Coach Sawley is counting on bringing victory to the Red and Black eleven.

A large following of students will accompany the Textile team to Worcester. Football spirit at the Moody street school is at fever heat for the first time in several years.

Lowell high and Lowell textile play out of town this week, the high school team engaging Fitchburg in the up-state city, while Textile goes to Worcester to play Worcester Tech.

General decentralization has broken out in the ranks of the Haverhill high team. Indifference has led to the dropping of the captain and one or two other star players. Haverhill has been tied once and lost twice this season, which is something unheard of in the 125 years Lowell has been in existence. Don't forget that!

It seems to be an unusually big year for local teams. The Butlers, O.M.I., Cadets, Indis, Tiger A.A. and Kenwood Hoovers are going strong.

Next Sunday afternoon on the old Grand Parade, the Butlers A.A. band, headed toward a city championship, will tackle the strong local Boston team in what promises to be a stiff argument. Manager Walsh of the Butlers, figures on a winning record of a great year, approaching the 5000 mark. The generous financial patronage being shown the Butlers this year makes possible the arrangement of games with fast visiting crews.

Judging by past Butler exhibitions, the boys will do it. They have been kinds of knock without counting. They are deserving of the patronage of the fans. And freedom is beginning to realize its obligation to these boys. People pick up money to see the games. Some of the local debacles have just as much color. The Butlers are an example.

Sunday's clash on the Pair grounds will get under way at 2:30 o'clock, with competent officials in charge. All the old Butler standbys, including Conley, Butler, McLaughlin, Conley, Loughran, Britton, Sleeha, Cockley, Whitely, the Chases and the McMahons will be in fogs prepared to give the East Bostonians a bitter taste of the way the Butlers is played from a Butler standpoint.

This Past Boston team, on the other hand, is no slouch. It has been meeting and defeating the best Greater Boston could offer this season and has strengthened materially for the Lowell encounter.

Talk of a Butler O.M.I. Cadet clash continues to increase. It will come off at 7 o'clock. A game of this magnitude goes bigger toward the close of the season. It should be the climax to the local season, and probably it will be. The game result will be a losing team usually goes bloated after the defeat. It is too early in the season for a team to get thusly now.

As Lowell high plays in Lawrence, Thanksgiving this year, we would suggest the Cadets and Butlers secure the game result of the annual argument on the afternoon of that day.

The O.M.I. clan travels to Peabody Sunday for a set to with the University A.C. and each local captain of local rosters will accompany the eleven.

The first street oval, as on the past several Sundays, will be the scene of a hot clash next Sunday when the Butler Second meet the Centralville Ponies. Both teams have defeated the Butlers A.A. and each has a capable of taking the other into camp Sunday.

The Ponies have been meeting with hot luck since they learned their mistake of indulging in games with heavier opposition. After dropping games to the Big Butlers and the O.M.I. Cadets, they have been able to take the other into camp Sunday.

The Elm A.C. would like to meet any 75-85 pound team in the city. This outfit, under the tutelage of A.C., is to 7 last Saturday. The lineup composed of Tye, Lenz, Abbott, Tiny, Deey, Dubrowski, Lepore, Stankins, Joe Davis, John Davis, Velenick and others. Games may be arranged through this paper.

The Kenwood Hoovers come back into the local spotlight again next Sunday afternoon when they take on the Wanderers on the North common in what should prove a thrilling battle. In the past two years neither of the teams has been able to score against the other, but previous encounters resulting in scoreless ties.

This year the Wanderers have greatly strengthened their lineup, and are confident of taking the Wanderers, Tom Dorgan, former star of the Newport Naval Training station team, is with the Hoovers and plays the line and back field with equal skill.

Arthur Lynch, physical instructor at the high school, is coaching the Kenwood boys.

Practice will be held at the Methuen street

FEW TITLE BOUTS EXPECTED

Lighthweight and Featherweight Divisions to Front as Indoor Season Opens

Elimination Tournament to Determine Successor to Dundee Attracts Interest

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The cycle of pugilistic activity which has revolved with diminished rapidity during the past outdoor season, especially in championship circles, probably will not regain much of its momentum with the arrival of the indoor season prospects. Outside of the light heavyweight and featherweight divisions, are uncertain.

The state athletic commission's proposal for a featherweight elimination tournament to determine a successor to Johnny Dundee, who voluntarily relinquished the crown when he outgrew the division, has revived interest among the 125-pounders and before the indoor season begins it seems certain that the featherweight crown will rest upon the head of a new champion.

Negotiations now are pending whereby Mike McFie, present incumbent of the world's light heavyweight title, will relinquish the crown upon the market against either Paul Harbo, or Gene Tunney, the American champion, but nothing definite has yet been arranged.

The collapse of the lightweight elimination tournament, fostered by the state athletic commission to determine a logical challenger for the 135-pound crown now worn upon the brow of Benny Leonard, means that Leonard will remain inactive for the present at least, unless there is a concerted effort to match him with Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion.

Pancho Villa's departure for his native land, the Philippine Islands, will remain inactive for the present at least, unless there is a concerted effort to match him with Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion.

Several matches of non-championship calibre are brewing to narrow down the field of championship contenders, but taken as a whole the boxing situation for the coming indoor season does not measure up to the standard of activity for the past three or four years in which many champions have come and gone and new faces have appeared in the limelight of pugilistic accomplishment.

COL. EMERY'S WOUND NOT SERIOUS

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 23.—Physicians today predicted a speedy recovery for Colonel John G. Emery, former national commander of the American Legion and veteran of several major engagements in the World War, who was shot yesterday by Ched-dell Simpson. Unless infection sets in, the doctors say the wound will not prove serious.

Emery was shot after Simpson came to the office and demanded to know whether Mrs. Simpson was there. On learning that she was employed there, Simpson charged Emery with attempting to break up his home. Mrs. Simpson is a stenographer in Mr. Emery's real estate office.

Mr. Emery stated that he knew nothing about Mrs. Simpson except that she had told him she was suing her husband for a divorce.

Mrs. Simpson, in a statement, said that her husband's assertion that Emery had broken up his home was "absurd."

Simpson, who is held in default of bail, is to be arraigned today on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, the prosecuting attorney announced.

His Machine Held Up Traffic

Judge Enright fined Frederic A. Baldo of Boston $10 for this offense.

Baldo was arrested on October 2 by Traffic Officer Harry Maroney for allowing his car to remain parked in Prescott street, near Willis' market for nearly 15 minutes. The officer stated that electric cars and other vehicles were held up at the corner of Prescott and Merrimack streets because of the parked machine.

Traffic Supervisor Sgt. Edward J. Connors and Patrolman Edward J. Flanagan offered similar testimony.

In relation to automobile law violators, Acting Superintendent Hugh Downey stated this morning that refusal of motorists to have lights showing while cars are parked may result in prosecutions. Some motorists, he said, leave their cars in front of their homes all night without lights.

MAYOR IS PREACHER

Mayor T. P. Shouse of Danville, Ill., is a Methodist clergyman. He holds prayer meetings in the office of Chief of Police James Wright whenever he believes that divine aid or guidance is necessary in the conduct of the city. There are frequent cases where men or women arrested by the city officers are repentant and express a desire to lead a better life.

Mayor Shouse, when satisfied that they are sincere, holds an impromptu prayer service and has had the satisfaction of seeing many persons to whom he and the chief of police have extended a helping hand, go straight.

The passport frauds were revealed by the American consul at Cherbourg, France, who reported that there were regularities in the papers of Rumanians who attempted to board steamers for the United States. His reports resulted in the unearthing of an elaborate scandal and prompted the Rumanian authorities to order the arrest last night of General Matiane. When Matiane was made to take him into custody, however, he shot himself and was taken to a hospital where it was said his condition was grave.

The scandal is considered in political circles as certain to result in the resignation of the general's brother and the reorganization of the cabinet, particularly since other cabinet members are reported to be involved.

IS LOWELL MAN

Attired in clothing purchased for the most part in Lowell stores, the body of an unidentified man, 30 years of age, weighing about 165 pounds, and five feet nine inches in height, was found in a Haverhill lodging house this morning with a 22 caliber bullet in his brain, and a revolver of the same dimension by his side. According to word received from the Haverhill police this morning, the man hired the room in the Haverhill lodging house only last night. His landlady found him dead when she went to awaken him this morning.

Besides the black suit and tie, the victim, when last seen alive, wore a gray hat and brown oxford shoes.

The Bone and Sinew

The readers of THE SUN are the bone and sinew of Lowell. They are practically all Lowell people who have helped to make the city what it is.

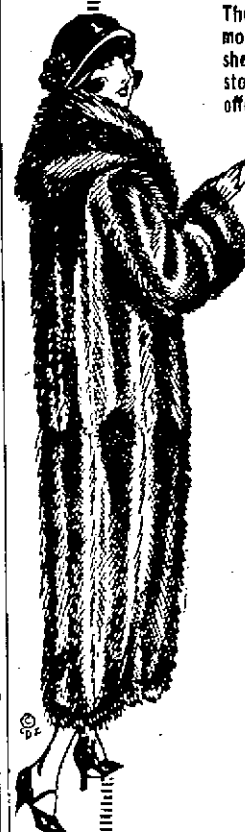

They earn their living in Lowell; they spend their money in Lowell; they are the main support of the Lowell merchants.

SUN readers are not in the habit of running to Boston for their supplies. They trade at home.

They are the largest body of newspaper readers in the city, and few of them read any other paper because they don't need to.

There is only one way for the merchant to reach this large, thrifty, industrious and intelligent body of readers, and that is through the columns of THE SUN.

VOTE ON LIQUOR ISSUE

Sixth Referendum on Question Within Past 30 Years in Province of Ontario

TORONTO, Oct. 23.—(The province of Ontario today are balloting in the sixth referendum on the liquor question to be held within the past 30 years. The issue in today's voting is whether the sale of intoxicants under provincial government control shall be established or whether the Ontario temperance act, passed in 1919, shall remain in effect.

Registration figures indicated that the poll would be one of the heaviest in the history of the province.

The question of the return of the saloons is not involved in today's voting. The questions only are asked on the liquor question. The first is, "Are you in favor of the continuance of the Ontario temperance act?" The second is, "Are you in favor of the sale of beverages of beer and spirituous liquor in sealed packages and under government control?"

The present law was enacted in 1919 as a war measure and was continued when the "dry" was victorious in the plebiscite in 1919. Two years later an amendment was adopted, making it illegal to import liquor from other provinces.

Today's voting is being watched with interest throughout Canada. It is generally believed that if the temperance act is repealed, prohibition will go into the discard in this dominion. If the "dry" win, however, it is expected that they will still fight for similar temperance acts in other provinces where they have lost ground, such as British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and even perhaps undertake to extend their triumph into Quebec.

$15,000 LOSS BY BROCKTON FIRE

BROCKTON, Mass., Oct. 23.—The factory of the Thompson-Field company, 104 Montello street, manufacturer of shoe supplies, principally bottom fling which they supply 118 firms, was badly gutted this morning at 10 o'clock. The loss will exceed $15,000. The blaze started in the basement of the factory among highly inflammable material and spread rapidly.

Two engine companies responded and confined the fire to the building. Lee Howes, Spring street, a machine repair man, who was working on machinery at the plant, rushed into the blaze to get his clothing and was burned about the face and neck.

BODY OF MINER FOUND

Gas and Dust Explosion Entombed at Least 15 Miners in Kentucky

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Oct. 23.—The body of Paul Wheeler, 19-year-old miner, was recovered from the Hurt Coal company's mine, where a gas and dust explosion last night entombed at least 15 miners. Two more men are missing and believed to have been buried under a fall of slate.

The blast, caused, it is believed, by a "wind" shot, occurred in shaft No. 3, two hundred and twenty feet underground, shortly after the first reports were that only nine men were in the mine at the time. Four escaped through an underground shaft.

Reports persisted, however, that two or three additional miners were in the workings at the time of the blast and were unaccounted for.

Witnesses declared the force of the blast threw a mass of slates 100 feet into the air from the mouth of the shaft. The slates were partly wrecked and the cage jammed in the shaft. This caused an accumulation of debris in the shaft and hampered efforts to reach the five men marooned underground.

DAWES INVADERS DAVIS' NATIVE STATE

ON BOARD DAWES' SPECIAL, ENROUTE TO WASHINGTON, DEL. MARSHBURGH, W. Va., Oct. 23.—Having double back westward to invade Virginia, the native state of John W. Davis, the democratic presidential candidate, Charles G. Dawes was today again traveling eastward on his swing through the middle Atlantic states as the republican nominee for vice-president.

The day was one of the lighter ones on the republican nominee's itinerary, with only two speeches slated, one a rear-platform talk at Lancaster, Pa., and a night address at Wilmington, Del. Leaving Wilmington late tonight, Mr. Dawes will go into the New York city district to spend three days and deliver two speeches, one at Newark, Friday night and the other in Brooklyn Saturday night.

In an address last night at Wheeling, W. Va., the republican nominee continued his assault on the La Follette independent movement and discussing the budget system again warned against a change "from a president who has courage like Calvin Coolidge."

TEN FIREMEN BURNED BY LIME DURING FIRE

PEABODY, Mass., Oct. 23.—Ten firemen were more or less painfully burned by lime which splattered when the fire broke out from the walls of the plaster-board department building at the American Glue Company's plant last night. Due to the character of the work at this plant, considerable lime collects on walls, beams and rafters. When fire was discovered, an alarm was sounded and the firemen directed several streams of water into the building, which, on striking the lime, splattered in every direction, causing burns on necks and faces of painful character, which were dressed at the hospital. The monetary loss was small.

The announcement in this city was made yesterday by the municipal elections board which had previously decided to keep the polls open only for the minimum time prescribed by law. Too great a congestion in the busy hours, because of the wide interest and extra large registration this year, seemed possible and the board, on second thought decided to lengthen the polling hours. Rep. Henry Achin, Jr., cited to the board the two reasons above given and the special meeting was called at his suggestion.

LIQUOR SMUGGLING CASE

Officials Admit Part in Rum Conspiracy

BOSTON, Oct. 23.—Selectman Ruel S. Gatchell of Salisbury and City Councilor Albert Reynolds of Newburyport, both of whom have pleaded to indictments charging conspiracy to smuggle liquor at northeastern Massachusetts beach resorts, closed the case for the government today against Harry F. Burnham, acting chief of the Plum Island coast guard station, Dennis Kellher of Salisbury and Newburyport, Herman L. Rich of Newburyport and Carl Voss of Gloucester, on trial in federal court on similar indictments. The defense began its case this afternoon.

Gatchell testified that in the fall of 1922 Chief of Police Harry F. Congdon of Salisbury, who has pleaded not guilty in this case, approached him and asked him to see Reynolds about "fixing" Burnham. Gatchell said he received more than $1200 from Congdon and gave $1000 to Reynolds, $100 at a time, after loads of liquor were landed from Rum Row. He said he was paid by Reynolds about $1000 in times in the councilor's clothing store in Newburyport, one payment being made in the cellar.

Reynolds said Gatchell had arranged with him to "fix it with Burnham" and that he had paid him $1000 in times in the councilor's clothing store in Newburyport, one payment being made in the cellar.

This he did, he testified, to help the court he had received at least $500 from Gatchell, half of which went to the coast guardman.

Chairman Borah of the committee announced that the request would be granted and the state chairman named would be called to Washington.

Mr. Undermyer also submitted a telegram from Senator Thomas J. Walsh, democratic Montana, saying it was rumored that $100,000 would be sent to Montana to be used against him in his campaign for re-election. The telegram was dated Poplar, Mont., Oct. 20, and addressed to Frank P. Walsh.

When Mr. Undermyer called attention to the absence of names of a number of capitalists from the list of republican contributors, Senator Borah remarked:

"I am mighty glad their names are missing."

"They are really missing," interjected Undermyer.

"We will try to find that out," replied Senator Borah.

Fred N. Shepherd, executive manager of the American Bankers' association, was the first witness at today's session.

"Was there any discussion of campaign contributions at the meeting of your association at Chicago recently?" asked Senator Borah.

"No," the witness answered.

"There was any discussion on the part of the bankers' association to raise campaign funds?"

MAN WHO BROKE JAIL GOT KEY FROM SHERIFF

EMPORIUM, Pa., Oct. 23.—Joseph Papalia, murder suspect who was recaptured and returned to jail here yesterday after a recent escape, has alleged in a confession attributed to him that Sheriff Norris of Cameron county said him the key with which he made his way out of jail. County Judge Baetz signed an order requiring Sheriff Norris to turn over all Cameron county prisoners to the sheriff of Elk County immediately after receipt of the purported confession.

Sheriff Norris today was silent concerning the charges against him.

BEAUTY POKES FUN AT CITY DUDES

By GENE COHN
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—"The childlike westerner hum."

Lois Roach peeps out from under her 10-gallon hat, her mouth curved in a big, generous smile. Then she laughs heartily.

"What, there isn't a range that a cowboy can't ride? You can stick up sky-scrapers and dig subways, but turn a cowboy loose and he'll know it as well as he knows a pathless plain."

"But take a dude—you know, that's what we call the collie from the east, and turn him loose in the ballparks. What does he do? He chokes the ball in the woods. Put a dude on a street car or a fiver and he's all right, but corral him in the cow country and what happens?"

"There's no place under the sun you need be feared to send a cowboy. We've got him at our heels. You give him a gun and he'll give you something to remember for a long time."

Lois Roach, it might be explained, is known as the most beautiful of cowgirls and she's riding with Tex Austin's Rodeo, just back from the West, where she's been.

What does she think of the feminine products of make-up, and pseudo-sophistication?

"Listen—girls are like steers; they wear the brand of the outfit they belong to. If they've got to be identified by the lipstick and the beaded-eyebrows and the going to the sun, they happen to own the ranch and the old maid is leading the roundup. They get caught in the herd and away they go."

"Myself—I never found anything the matter with sunshine. But how are you going to get acquainted with fresh air and sun if you're under a 20-story sky-scraper? I don't blame the girls. It just happens they're riding for a bum outfit."

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Stock prices continued to forge ahead at the opening of today's market with buying orders scattered over a broad list of rail and industrial shares. Accumulation of the oil stocks was influenced by a further decrease in crude oil production. United States Steel and General Electric moved counter to the general trend.

With professional traders directing their operations against short interest in special stocks the general list strengthened on expanded trading despite the development of a few weak spots. American Woolen was lowered down 2 1/2 points to 33 1/2 and Bethlehem Steel sank back to its 1924 low price of 37 1/2. Railroad shares responded to the announcement that freight traffic for the second week in October was the heaviest of the year. High grade issues, especially, were in demand.

On the New York Central advancing 1 1/2 to 107. American Water Works 6 per cent. preferred jumped 3 points and American Can, Pacific Gas, Union Oil, Elgin, and Goodyear preferred moved to points higher. General Electric recovered from its early heaviness. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

A two-hour market appeared to be a two-hour market with the major activity in the downward side. Reports of an excess supply of sugar in certain European countries contributed to the further weakness of sugar shares. American Sugar Refining touched a new low at 36 1/2 and American Beet Sugar duplicating its low of 36. The general list ended downward, although the first batch of buying orders had been absorbed but steadied later when active accumulation sent Lohr Valley up to 1 1/2 to 53 1/2 and a renewed demand for the general list. General Electric, Kansas City Southern raised two points in reflection of its September earnings report. Call money remained at 2 per cent.

Bullish outbursts in individual shares, Maxwell Motor A rising 2 to 6 1/2 and Fleischmann 4 to 7 1/2, both new high figures, tended to raise prices in the general list, although the railroad shares showed increasing heaviness, notably St. Louis, San Francisco, Wabash preferred and Pittsburg and West Virginia. General Electric, Woolworth, International Telephone & Telegraph, Postum Cereal, Coca Cola and Pacific Oil made rapid strides upward.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 8

Jack nestled down with his arm around Flip. And Flop worked his way in under Jack's other arm. The trio were just about asleep when a terrible clap of thunder roared, followed by a vivid streak of lightning. Jack sat up straight with a jump. It seemed that they were right in the storm cloud.

"Is it going to rain on us?" he asked the aviator. "Oh, no," came the reply, "I'll be up above this rain cloud in just a minute." Then Jack felt the plane swing sideways and then turn suddenly upwards. Looking out he saw that they were passing right between two great black clouds.

Suddenly the last rays of the sun broke out and Jack realized that they had reached the top of the rain clouds. He peered out in front of the plane and watched the sun settle down below the horizon. Night time was almost at hand so he decided to go back to sleep. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

DADDY GANDER STOPPED HIS MAGIC DUST PAN THEN AND THERE AND TOLD THE TIN ROOSTER ALL ABOUT IT.

"The first thing to do," said Daddy Gander as he and the Twins rode along through the sky on his magic dust-pan, "is to go to the top of the highest mountain in the world. Then we can look down and see everything. It shouldn't be a mile of trouble for us to see the House That Jack Built."

"What's that?" "What's that?" asked a voice close by. "What did you say?"

It was the tin rooster on the barn that was speaking, much to their surprise. The rooster was speaking—not the barn!

"What did you say about the House That Jack Built? I heard you say something out of my tin ear."

Daddy Gander stopped his magic dust-pan then and there and told the tin rooster all about it.

SIXTH MASSACHUSETTS VETERANS ASSOCIATION TO MEET HERE

Men Who Took Part in Porto Rican Campaign Will Hold Annual Reunion at Memorial Auditorium—Visitors Will Tour Cities in Automobiles

FRANK DODGE

ALEXANDER B. MITCHELL

Veterans of the Sixth Massachusetts regiment who took part in the Porto Rican campaign of the Spanish-American war in 1898, will hold their annual reunion in the Auditorium Saturday afternoon and evening.

This event will mark the first time in the history of the Sixth Regiment association that the reunion has been held in this city, and in only one or two other years has the annual gathering ever been held in any city but Boston.

The association numbers approximately 700 men, scattered throughout the country, and it is expected that between 350 and 400 will be in attendance at the reunion Saturday.

Arrangements for the event are in charge of a committee of local veterans of the Sixth, headed by Frank Dodge as chairman, assisted by Alexander B. Mitchell as secretary-treasurer, Arthur F. Sullivan, honorary member of the organization; Colby T. Kittredge, Willard D. Pratt, Gardner W. Pearson, Charles J. Duffy, William M. Prescott, P. Henry Driscoll, Frank A. Boyle and Walter R. Jones.

The regimental organization's officers are Thomas J. Godley, chief of the Plattsburg police, president; Frank Dodge of Lowell, vice president; C. E. Pich, Stoneham, secretary; and Thomas E. Todd of Boston, treasurer.

The tentative program for the reunion opens with registration for members at the veterans' quarters in the Memorial Auditorium at 12:30 o'clock. Following registration, the veterans will be taken on a tour of the city in automobiles provided by the Rotary club and chamber of commerce.

After viewing the city's industries, schools and places of interest, the veterans will go to the city range in Braintree, where target practice will be indulged in and a general good time had. A buffet luncheon will be served during the afternoon.

Returning to the veterans' wing of the Auditorium at 6 o'clock, the annual business meeting of the association will be held with President Godley presiding. Considerable business of interest will come up for action at the meeting.

Following the completion of business, a social hour will be enjoyed. At 7 o'clock, the veterans will gather in Liberty hall where the annual banquet will be held.

Among those invited to attend the banquet are members of the Old Sixth which fought in the Civil war, the commanders of the local G. A. R. posts and other veterans' organizations in this city. Mayor Donovan, President Fisher of the chamber of commerce, Royal P. White, Hon. Charles A. Allen and Gen. Adelbert Ames.

The entertainment program consists of a group of selections by the Mendelssohn Male quartet, solos by Mrs. Nettie Roberts and Miss Ella Thompson.

son, Scotch songs and wit by James E. Donnelly, a boxing exhibition by the Clancy twins, a sparring match by Young McKelvie and Peter Salley of the Boys' club, and a number of other features which have not yet been decided upon.

The Sixth regiment of the Spanish war was a direct descendant of the Sixth regiment which took part in the Civil war, and Lowell furnished two fully manned companies, C and G, commanded by Alexander Gregg and William Fairweather. The regiment was mustered in May 12, 1898, at Framingham and went from there to Camp Alker, Va. Following a short training period, the regiment embarked from Charleston, S. C. for Cuba.

After hovering about the coast of Cuba for 21 days, the regiment was transported to Porto Rico, and took an active part in the campaign there. The following September it was transported back to this country and was mustered out of the service, Jan. 21, 1899.

There are approximately 100 veterans of the Sixth in this city and they plan to make the annual reunion here next Saturday a banner event in the history of the regiment association.

Plan Addition to the Local Postoffice and unloading platform and a mail storage shed.

At the present time, facilities for loading and unloading trucks are limited to two doors, and if the proposed addition is allowed, loading platforms and the necessary exits will be constructed to accommodate six trucks at the same time.

The proposed addition, if constructed, will also tend to relieve congestion on the main floor of the postoffice building, according to the postmaster. Under the present system, matter unloaded from trucks must be piled on the main floor until it can be distributed and matter in sacks ready to be taken to the railroad station for shipment outward remains on the floor until it can be taken to the postoffice. A considerable congestion and in planning the new addition, it is the intention of postal authorities to use it as a storage place for this matter which now clogs the main building.

The necessary land for the addition is owned by the federal government and extends from the rear of the postoffice into what is called Postoffice avenue, for a distance of approximately 40 feet. This is used as a thoroughfare at the present time and has been for many years, but, as state laws do not govern federal property, the government has never lost its title owing to the land being used as a right of way.

A municipally or privately owned thoroughfare extends from the present boundary line of the government property for a distance of approximately 100 feet, and adjoining this is a three-foot sidewalk. The postmaster said this morning that if he is successful in getting an appropriation sufficient to erect the proposed addition, the present thoroughfare would not be closed completely and that most of the government property would not be lost to the limit of its property but would leave a strip of land three or four feet wide to be used as a thoroughfare. This, added to the present six-foot strip, would leave an alley sufficiently wide for a truck or pleasure car to pass through.

SAYS PROGRESSIVES ARE WITH LA FOLLETTE

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—John M. Nelson, national director of the La Follette-Whelan campaign today made public a joint declaration of some of the supporters of the Roosevelt progressive party of 1912, pledging assistance in the endeavor to elect the independent candidate.

The list of signers was headed by Harold L. Ickes, former Bull Moose campaigner from Illinois; Amos Pinchot, New York; Miss Jane Addams and Francis J. Heney of California.

"Progressives, except those who ever since 1912 have been apologizing for their temporary aberrations in that year, and in Robert M. La Follette, a leadership they may confidently follow," the statement said.

DEMOCRATS HOLD RALLY IN HUDSON

Over 1,500 voters, about half of them women, assembled in Hudson last night to hear U. S. Senator David I. Walsh and Humphrey O'Sullivan of Lowell, candidate for congress in the 6th district. The rally, arranged by the democratic committee, was held in the town hall and was presided over by an old time parade with red fire and brass band.

Tonight Mr. O'Sullivan will visit Popper and Gerton for conferences with the democratic committee of those two towns. Tomorrow night he speaks in Times hall, Woburn, coming later to Lowell to speak at the democratic rally to be held in the Memorial Auditorium here. The speech given at Hudson by Mr. O'Sullivan last night follows:

Mr. O'Sullivan said in part: "I am pleased to inform you that as the campaign progresses the prospects are improving, and in many ways reason to believe that as it progresses they will continue to improve. The cooperation that I requested in the cities and towns of this district is very much in evidence, but there is yet plenty of time for additional volunteer help, for my friends on every side to stand in with me in this contest, for it is a man-size order."

"In going through the towns of this district as I have done this week, I find the people have not forgotten my activities in the campaign of twelve years ago. The friends that I made at that time are with me on the firing line, for they have learned by experience that any promises I have made I have fulfilled."

"The rules that apply to business should also apply to politics. In business all a man has is his word. A man in business should scrupulously keep his engagements, protect his credit and keep faith with the public. In other words, a business man should be a known quantity for integrity and square dealing. So when a man becomes involved in a political fight he makes no mistake by keeping his word with his supporters and with the voters of this district. This I have done, so that I believe it is pretty clearly understood, from one end of this district to the other, that I have kept faith with my friends and the people of the district in general—a man who performs, who renders service."

"When I went through this district twelve years ago I was an unknown quantity in this regard. The people have to have experience with a candidate before they can bank upon his statements. Now I feel bold and ask the people to refer to my record of achievement for them in the district, and I am glad to stand upon my record of service."

"In contrast may I ask what service the congressman from this district has rendered to the varied interests here? For twelve years I have been sought to be able to point to something of a constructive nature that he has accomplished, but you search in vain for anything in his record. Meeting a few of the voters at the local postoffice annually cannot be regarded as constructive. Neither can sending seeds through the mails under the frank of the government be regarded as constructive. The attempt to keep tude towards the relation of business to the people. The merchants and the manufacturers today are seeking to deliver something besides their goods; and they are delivering it with pride. That new something is the sense of service to the community.

"These are the lines of real progress. To tear down a system under which so much of genuine progress has been accomplished in so short a period, merely because the minor defects that have not yet been entirely eliminated, would be a policy of destruction. We need not fear that the American community will commit itself to such a policy. A long long experience of the American people to build up, to construct. That genius was never more vigorous, never more intent on exercising itself than now. It will continue to be supreme in our country."
